CHURCH LIFE INSURANCE CORPORATION

For the Benefit of Clergymen and their Families and
Lay Officials and Lay-Workers and their Families

This Corporation was established in 1922 by the Trustees of The Church Pension Fund for the purpose of placing complete facilities at the disposal of the Church for procuring life insurance and life annuities at the lowest cost consistent with safety.

All standard life and retirement policies, as well as annuities, are available. The Corporation issues both Immediate and Deferred annuities, and joint annuity contracts.

Substantial annual refunds to policyholders under all insurance contracts have been paid regularly since 1924, which have reduced the guaranteed low cost still further. Refunds are not guaranteed for the future.

The Corporation is not operated for private profit. It is owned entirely by The Church Pension Fund. All of its facilities are freely offered not only to clergymen and their immediate families but also to the lay officials and active lay-workers of the Church and their families. It has no agents and all inquiries should be addressed to the Corporation. Full information will be sent upon request.

The House of Lamb, by reason of its age and continuity of ownership and direction parallels the Medieval Guilds and is justly famed for the authenticity and excellence of its design and craftsmanship.

Behind this concern lies matchless experience. It has been the pilot in countless undertakings, dealing with thousands of churches and individuals.

Suggestions are based on thorough knowledge of the best traditions of Christian Art, pursued both here and abroad for three generations by a family of artists and craftsmen unique in this country.

The benefit of our experience is yours. How may we serve you?

A Chime or Carillon of Bells should not be a mere aggregation of so many notes, but should be in every sense a set of sweet, musical, mellow-toned Bells, a pleasure to hear and a joy forever. Such is our special aim and effort in every set of Bells manufactured, and the quality of our work is the wonder of every purchaser. Our chimes and carillon bells are attuned so that the same fullness, tone, richness and brilliancy obtain throughout the entire set.

This is a solution to a problem confronting many churches. The center window behind the altar is closed up and a finely carved reredos of oak now makes a fitting background for the severely plain limestone altar. In the central panel is a richly colored picture of the Transfiguration. This work, as well as a modern lighting installation in the chancel and sanctuary, was executed by our organization.

The State of the Church

Editorial

CHURCHMEN who are familiar with previous editions of The Living Church Annual will be surprised and, we hope, pleased to find it this year in a new format. The 1937 Living Church Annual is a completely new book from beginning to end. It has been reset throughout in a larger page size with new type and a two-column makeup. The result is that, although there is more material in this edition of the Annual than in any previous one, the volume is more compact and we hope that it will be found simpler and more convenient for desk use and ready reference.

NEW FEATURES OF THE ANNUAL

IN addition to the new format, The Living Church Annual presents this year several new features or improvements in familiar ones. These are too numerous to list here fully but a glance through the Annual will indicate many changes, all of which we hope are improvements.

One new feature that we are particularly happy to introduce this year is the series of maps which are supplied to us through the courtesy of the Church's National Department of Publicity. On pages 146 to 153 will be found a series of eight new maps, each showing the dioceses and missionary districts, see cities, and other important centers of the several provinces. This series of maps was especially drawn for The Living Church Annual by Mr. Percy J. Knapp, official cartographer to the National Council. They take the place of the large map of the Church in the United States which was formerly folded and inserted in the Annual. These maps are supplemented by others showing the extra-continental and foreign missionary districts with their principal missions and out-stations. Most of these individual maps are made from standard publications of the Department of Publicity and may be obtained in larger size from Church Missions House, 281 Fourth Ave., New York.

Another new feature of the Annual is the brief historical summary that appears at the head of the section devoted to each diocese and missionary district. This is supplemented by a list of former dioceses and missionary districts which have had their names changed or been divided or merged into other jurisdictions. This list appears on page 368 following the diocesan material. We are indebted to the Rev. Dr. Francis L. Palmer, canon of the Cathedral of Our Merciful Saviour, Faribault, Minnesota, for this material, which represents months of painstaking historical research.

Following the historical summary under each diocese and missionary district is a tabulation of previous bishops with the dates of their episcopate and a key number in parenthesis following the name of each bishop. This key number, which also follows the names of bishops in the general clergy list, the cyclopedia, and other parts of the Annual, refers to the table of the American episcopate beginning on page 386. This table has been carefully checked over and forms a valuable tabulation of the "vital statistics" of the bishops of the Church in America from the first one, Samuel Seabury, consecrated in November, 1784, to the last one consecrated before this Annual went to press in November, 1936.

A few other improvements in the Annual that may be mentioned are the indication of the parochial connection of deaconesses wherever possible, the more compact presentation of the kalendar and lectionary—the latter being for the second year the alternative form authorized by General Convention—and the reclassification of the table of the Anglican Episcopate Throughout the World.

CHANGES IN THE EPISCOPATE

An unusual number of changes in the episcopate of the Church took place during the year ending November 1, 1936. Eight bishops died, five of these being retired bishops, and three still in active service. These are listed at the head of the clerical necrology section on page 506 and sketches of their lives are given in the cyclopedia section beginning on page 31. Nine new bishops have been consecrated. Their portraits are published immediately following the title page of the Annual and sketches of their lives are also given in the cyclopedia section. In addition one bishop was translated—Bishop Bartlett from North Dakota to Idaho—and one suffragan bishop was elected diocesan—Bishop Coley as Bishop of Central New York. As the present Annual goes to press there are four bishops-elect awaiting consecration—the Very Rev. Harry Beal, as Bishop of Panama Canal Zone, the Rev. Dr. Douglas H. Atwill as Bishop of North Dakota, the Ven. Winfred H. Ziegler as Bishop of Wyoming, and the Rev. Dr. W. Appleton Lawrence as Bishop of Western Massachusetts. Portraits and sketches of the lives of these will be published in the 1938 Living Church Annual. They are, however, listed in this Annual as bishops-elect under their several diocesan headings.

MISSIONS

As we have observed in previous years, the best index to the vigor of any Christian communion is the state of its missionary work. The year 1936 has been a difficult one in the mission field of the Church, both at home and abroad. Because of continued financial stringency this has been for the most part a year of holding the line, and many opportunities for expansion have had to be reluctantly declined. At the beginning of the year it looked as if the general missionary budget of the Church would have to suffer a further drastic cut, resulting in very serious injury to the Church's program. Rallying to an emergency appeal, however, the Church made up the threatened deficit in the emergency schedule and there is ground for hope that in the near future the missionary work of the Church can again operate on a progress budget rather than a minimum maintenance schedule.

The story of the missionary work of the Church under the Departments of Domestic and Foreign Missions of the National Council is summarized in the articles on those two departments in the cyclopedia section of the Annual. They tell a story of hope and courage, of loyal devotion to duty, and of missionary zeal on the part of hundreds of the Church's missionaries in far countries and in our own land. But even this is only a part of the picture, for a great deal of the missionary work of the Church is not administered through the Church Missions House at all but is done under the direction of the several dioceses and parishes. Although this is not reported under the heading of Missions it is none the less valuable missionary work.

We shall discuss statistics in a later section of this editorial, but perhaps it may not be amiss to point out here certain statistical facts in regard to the foreign missions of the Church. The total of baptisms in all of the foreign missions is reported this year as 7,269 as compared with 6,162 last year. The total of confirmations is 3,357 as compared with 2,424 last year. The number of baptisms and confirmations is the best index of healthy missionary activity and so these two increases are particularly noteworthy. In this connection we should like to call particular attention to the beginning of an evangelistic campaign by the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in Japan, the purpose of which is to add 100,000 men and boys to the Church through baptism and confirmation in the coming ten years. It is an ambitious program but the record of the Brotherhood in that country during the past few years gives hope for a considerable measure of success.

Most of the foreign missionary districts show substantial increases in the number of communicants. Haiti, the largest foreign missionary district, for the first time passes the 6,000 mark, having 6,163 communicants, virtually all of whom are French-speaking colored natives of that country. In addition there are 1,062 communicants in the Dominican Republic.

The missionary district of Anking, China, has a notable record of increase in the number of communicants, having added more than 10% to its communicant list during the year. The European Churches show an increase of 19%, but this is a less significant figure as the communicants of these churches consist mostly of Americans temporarily living abroad.

Only two foreign missionary districts have suffered a decrease in the number of communicants. In Liberia the decrease of 1.4% may be partly accounted for by a better method of compiling statistics. In Mexico the very considerable decrease of 7.8% is attributed by the Bishop to the law allowing only 10% of foreigners in every business. Because of this law many American and English Church people have left the country.

In the domestic field every missionary district with one exception shows an increase in the number of communicants. The exception is Idaho, of which the diocesan secretary writes: "The only explanation

I know for the decrease in communicants and baptized persons is that of removals and the slackening of missionary effort in the last few years. We believe we are headed in the other direction now. Many of our missions have been closed for years." It should be noted in this connection that these statistics do not reflect the territorial change in the missionary district of Idaho, which has subsequently been divided.

THE FORWARD MOVEMENT

INAUGURATED by the General Convention of 1934 the Forward Movement has been vigorously taken up in all parts of the Church and there is not a diocese or missionary district that has not been eral Convention the Forward Movement is probably the most notable and encouraging feature of its life.

METHOD OF GATHERING STATISTICS

Before we turn to the actual statistics of the Church let us consider for a moment the way in which those statistics are gathered. The various figures reported in this 1937 Living Church Annual are described as "statistics for 1936" because they are gathered in the year 1936, but they actually reflect the state of the Church in the year 1935. The reason for this will be apparent upon a moment's reflection. The basis for all statistical reports in the Church is the annual parochial report required in all touched by its message. Some of the specific activities undertaken in the name of the Forward Movement are described in the special article in this issue by the chairman of the Forward Movement Commission, Bishop Hobson of Southern Ohio, and in the article on the Forward Movement in the cyclopedia section. In the very nature of the case, no statistics can be cited to indicate with any degree of exactitude the progress of the Forward Movement. It is essentially a spiritual awakening which marks a very widespread rededication and strengthened loyalty on the part of an ever growing number of Church people. As the Church approaches another triennial Gen-dioceses and missionary districts. These parochial reports are generally made out at the end of a calendar year and are sent to diocesan headquarters. There they are tabulated and published in the diocesan journals which are issued at various times in the following year. Thus, the 1935 statistics appear in the 1936 journals.

The figures in The Living Church Annual are compiled from the latest diocesan journals. The figures in this 1937 Annual, therefore, are compiled from the 1936 journals which contain the statistics for 1935. These figures, however, are carefully checked by the various diocesan bishops and executive secretaries in order to eliminate any errors that may have crept into the diocesan journals.

This lag of two years between the date at which the statistics are compiled and the date of The Living Church Annual in which they are contained is unavoidable. Any attempt to compile the figures more rapidly would threaten their accuracy and reliability. The statistics as now given are as accurate as the parochial and diocesan reports. It is impossible to make them more accurate than these and therefore the importance of accurately compiling parochial reports and diocesan journals cannot be stressed too strongly.

ANALYSIS OF STATISTICS

The first thing that strikes us in these statistics is the large number of decreases indicated. This applies particularly to the working staff of the Church, for there are very substantial decreases in the number of clergy, the number of candidates and postulants for Holy Orders, and the number of lay readers. The total number of parishes and missions, moreover, has decreased by 29. As we observed last year, the decreases in the number of clergy, candidates, and postulants may indicate merely a consolidation of the work of the Church and a stiffening of the requirements governing the admission of men to the theological seminaries. Similarly the decrease in the number of parishes and missions and the number of lay readers may indicate healthy consolidation of work. On the other hand, following as they do similar decreases last year, these figures do seem rather definitely to indicate that men are not giving themselves to the work of the Church as they have in the past, and that the expansion of the Church is hampered for that reason.

We are not among those who feel that there ought to be a moratorium on ordinations until all of the present clergy have employment. It is true that there are a great many unemployed clergy, and that in many cases through no fault of their own. It is probably also true that the Church does not at the present time need more married priests with families. It does, however, continue to need devoted young men in the ministry who will sacrifice themselves in the service of Christ and His Church without thought of personal comforts and advantages. The Church can use any number of men who have vocations to the celibate life, both in her religious orders and in the ordinary priesthood of the Church. It can also use those whose love for the Church is such that they are willing to put off all thought of marriage and family for a period of five or ten years after graduating from the seminary. There is undoubtedly a shortage in the Church of parishes that can afford to pay their rectors salaries sufficient to raise a family. There is not, and never has been, a shortage of work for priests who are not bound by family ties and who can take literally the precept, "Take no thought for the morrow." In making this statement we have no intention of casting any sort of reflection upon the married clergy. It is one of the great sources of strength in our Church that we do have a married priesthood which sets for us the example of the best type of family life. We would in no way detract from that glory, but the fact remains that the need of the Church at the present time is for priests without family ties who can build up the work of the Church in areas that cannot afford to pay adequate salaries and who can extend her missionary frontiers both at home and abroad.

More alarming than the decrease in the number of clergy and parishes is the very substantial decrease in the number of Church School teachers and scholars. This year for the first time since 1930 we have less than half a million boys and girls in our Church schools—a decrease of nearly 14,000 from the figures given last year. An hour or two once a week is little enough to give to religious education, yet it is all that most of our Church boys and girls receive, and each year for three years now fewer and fewer of them have been receiving even this much instruction.

Nevertheless, the Church is growing. This is indicated by a substantial increase in the number of baptisms and confirmations during the year, partially but not entirely offsetting the decrease in these figures last year. Since the statistics reported in this issue of the Annual are those for the year in which the Forward Movement first began to take effect it seems not unreasonable to attribute to the Forward Movement this beginning of an upturn that we hope may be continued in the number of baptisms and confirmations. It should be said parenthetically here that the reports this year have been exceptionally lax in dividing baptisms between infants and adults, the increase coming in the classification "baptisms—not specified." There is no excuse for this, as if rectors would keep their records properly it would be possible to classify all baptisms as either infant or adult.

The increase in baptisms and confirmations is reflected also in an increase in the total number of baptized members and of communicants in the Church. Both of these are at a new high level, showing that the Church is slowly increasing in its membership and communicant strength.

Two other figures show substantial increases. There were 1,407 more marriages in this year than in the year preceding. Contributions for all Church purposes showed an increase of $62,000, bringing them to a total of nearly thirty and a half million dollars for the year. This, however, is still far short of the high point of $46,000,000 reported in 1929. Nevertheless, it is an encouraging sign that general improvement in financial conditions is beginning to be reflected in Church contributions. This is the first year since the depression that the figure for contributions has not shown a considerable decrease and it bears out our prophecy a year ago that last year's report would mark the lowest figure for contributions.

Turning again to the figures for communicants and analyzing them by dioceses and missionary districts, it is encouraging to note, as we observed before, that only three missionary districts—two foreign and one domestic—have shown decreases in communicant strength, and that in each of these there was a special reason for the decrease. The story in the dioceses is not so encouraging, for decreases are shown in sixteen of these, ranging from one communicant in Springfield to 10.9% of the total communicant strength in Western Michigan. This last is particularly alarming for it comes on top of a 2% decrease last year and would seem to indicate that something is radically wrong in that diocese. One other diocese, that of Pittsburgh, has a decrease in excess of 10%, while the diocese of Lexington has a decrease of 9.8%. Other dioceses showing lesser decreases are Maine, New Hampshire, Western Massachusetts, Western New York, Southern Virginia, Georgia, Louisiana, Marquette, Southern Ohio, Springfield, Duluth, Iowa, and Arkansas. Doubtless some of these decreases are due to pruning of parish lists or (as reported from Southern Ohio) "adjustment being made by the congregations to conform to the definition more closely." Nevertheless, Churchmen in those dioceses ought to take careful stock to see that they are not losing ground.

RATIO OF COMMUNICANTS TO POPULATION

Several people have called our attention to the fact that the table of Ratio of Communicants, given in previous editions of the Annual, was inaccurate and misleading. The figures used were sometimes those for communicants, sometimes for members, and were not uniformly those of the census years. This table has accordingly been entirely refigured this year and we believe that it is as accurate as the sources of information permit. The method of figuring these statistics is given at the bottom of the table on page 401.

It will be seen from this table that the ratio of communicants has been increasing regularly in each decennial census period. In 1830 one American in every 415.851 was a member of the Episcopal Church; in 1930 one American in every 97.35 was a member of this Church. Nevertheless, it is noteworthy that the increase in the ratio of communicants, which was very rapid throughout the 19th century, has been very slow in the 20th century and particularly since 1910—this despite the fact that the influx of foreign population was virtually stopped after the World War.

LOOKING FORWARD

What of the future? Is the Church really going forward or is it standing still or slipping backward? Statistics cannot possibly tell the whole story but they can give an indication. It seems to us that the statistics given in this Annual indicate that a beginning is being made in going forward. But the progress thus far made has been slight and could easily be offset by one or two bad years. In the 19th century the Church was growing much more rapidly than the population; today it seems only to be holding its own with the increase in population.

Are we really a missionary Church? We ought to be and we have been in the past. Perhaps we are today. Certainly we must be in the future if the Church is to go forward. And a missionary Church does not mean a Church in which there is a certain number of paid missionaries, but rather a Church in which every communicant and baptized member has a sense of responsibility for spreading the Gospel, both by his personal example and by his prayers and contributions for the spread of Christ's Kingdom.

The Forward Movement

A MESSAGE TO THE CHURCH AFTER TWO YEARS' ACTIVITY

*From the Joint Commission on the Forward Movement, through its chairman,
The Rt. Rev. Henry Wise Hobson, Bishop of Southern Ohio.*

MANY times during the two years since General Convention appointed a Commission to lead in "the reinvigoration of the life and rehabilitation of the work" of the Church the question has been asked: "Why is the Forward Movement so vague in its program?" This is a very fair question because from its origin the Commission has resisted the temptation, which at times has been insistent, to make its appeal to the Church by means of a cut and dried superimposed program. As a result certain people have been disappointed. Those who pin their hopes upon dictatorship have looked to the Commission in vain. Those who enjoy seeing well oiled wheels go round and round have found little joy. Those who through lack of initiative or sloth want to be told what to do have not been comforted.

The Commission admits the frequent vagueness of its program, but is more and more convinced that the course it has chosen is the only one which, in a Church founded upon a faith in democracy, can result in permanent Forward Movement. The Commission has considered its chief function the gathering of ideas, hopes, suggestions, longings, criticisms and plans from the Bishops and other clergy; from Dioceses, Parishes and Missions; from men, women, young people and children; from office holders in positions of importance and unknown men with a humble devotion to the Church in their hearts—yes, from all sorts and conditions of men. What has been gathered the Commission has sought to present to the Church in a way which would bring our members face to face with the needs of the Church, and fire them with the longing and determination to unite with new loyalty in meeting these needs.

Following this policy has resulted in making Forward Movement Conferences the foundation of whatever program has been developed. For as we members of the Commission have sought to discover the mind, bring together the ideas, and unite the best plans of the Church, we have shared in thousands of conferences with individuals, informal groups, and official organizations throughout the Church. The fruit of these conferences has been not only the constant guidance given to the Commission in deciding what steps to take and how to take them, but also the active determination on the part of many individuals and groups, in all parts of the Church, to initiate Forward Movement programs which would help them to meet their own local needs. Thus in Arizona a District-wide visit to every congregation has just been completed which has focused attention upon religion in the home; in Rochester a Diocese-wide institute on prayer is being planned; in Christ Church, Cambridge, a program has been set up with yearly goals covering an advance to be made during the next five years. These are but samples of many many instances where local initiative, stirred by Forward Movement Conferences, has produced at least the birth of a new spirit and the decision to unite in an advance.

The Commission plans, during this last year of the triennium, to place an even greater emphasis upon the value of these conferences. Clergy and lay people, in parishes and communities, in convocations and regions, in dioceses and districts, will be brought together to face present needs and to ask the question—"What are we going to do about it?" We urge, for instance, that Rectors hold parish conferences, for vestrymen and other leaders, to ask such questions as: "Has this parish a large number of lost or casual communicants?" "Is the Church School program really effective?" "Have we a program of adult education?" "Are we awake to the needs of our community, and have we a sense of responsibility for the life of those about us?" "What proportion of our members are taking their Christianity seriously and expressing their loyalty by regular giving to the Diocese and General Church?" Do the members of this Church prepare faithfully and come regularly to the Holy Communion?" "Is there an adequate program for the men of the parish?" Such questions considered by a parish group, and similar questions faced by those representing other departments of the Church's organization and life, must be the beginning of any program which is to result in progress. It is our conviction that through such conferences will come a clearer vision of the problems and opportunities which confront the Church, a more demanding sense of responsibility on the part of our Church members, and a new unity of purpose and action which will strengthen us all in our pledge to be loyal disciples of Christ. The Commission has prepared, and will be glad to furnish, material for use in such conferences. "Building a Parish Program," and "Religion in Family Life," are two pieces of literature which have been helpful in many places.

From the very beginning your Commission has placed an emphasis upon the importance of individual Discipleship. We shall continue to do so because it is constantly more evident that we can not build a Church capable of going forth to victory in its task of evangelizing the world, out of members who are lukewarm, disloyal or ignorant of what as Disciples the Master demands that they shall be and do. The devotional manual FORWARD DAY BY DAY was planned, and has been prepared and distributed, with the purpose of helping people to become more loyal as followers of Christ and members of His Church. The fact that thousands of men, women and young people have started to say their prayers and read their Bibles each day is surely one necessary step in the building of sincere Discipleship. A great many of the five million copies of these booklets which have been sold have certainly not been used, but lives have been changed and, as one of the leading scientists of China who had been using the manual daily remarked, "people have come to know the joy of walking daily in the companionship of Jesus Christ." An old countryman in a rural parish in Virginia said to his Bishop, "I don't know how much good this Forward Movement book has done to other folks, but even if it hasn't done any good 'cept what it has done for me, then those fellows ain't wasted none of their time."

It is, however, important to remember that FORWARD DAY BY DAY is doing a lot besides helping individuals to be better Christians. A rector of a large parish writes, "I cannot begin to tell you the number of people who have come to me and written me of the good effect these books have had upon their lives. But more than that they have stimulated in a marked degree both attendance and devotion at our services." When the majority of the members of a parish are reading their Bibles and saying their prayers (as we have been told is happening in certain places); when over fifteen hundred blind persons are daily reading through their fingers what we read with our eyes; when in three hundred churches in Japan thousands of Christians are using FORWARD DAY BY DAY in Japanese; when in all of our own mission fields, as well as in Canada and among Christians of other Communion, there is a wide distribution of this booklet; when the sale of each issue of this manual is ten times greater than in the case of any similar material in the past, and we find them going forth into hospitals, prisons, schools, C.C.C. Camps, reformatories, and homes; then we can be sure that these little books, in their gay colors, are serving as a strong band of fellowship giving our people a new sense of the unity which is ours as members of the Church.

Other literature which your Commission has prepared is offered to the Church with the hope that it may be of help to those who are trying to go forward themselves and to lead our Church forward. Courses, Guides, devotional booklets, and material for Children and Young People, all have their place in our program, but this material is not the Forward Movement. It can be of value only when a person who has the will to go forward uses it as a tool to help him to build a new life and a stronger Church. Further description of this literature, or any attempt to deal with all the details of the Forward Movement program, could not be presented in this message without making it unduly long. Those who desire further information are asked to write to Forward Movement headquarters, 223 West Seventh Street, Cincinnati, Ohio. Samples of literature and suggestions as to program will gladly be furnished.

This message began with a question, and it can well end with another which is frequently asked—"What is the next step in the Forward Movement?" In one sense it is impossible to give any answer because the Forward Movement is not a tourist tour taking people to a series of known stops, but our adventure into the unknown—for the Christian life must ever be such an adventure. However, this much can be said. While following the Disciple's Way is pushing along in faith into the unknown as companions of the Master, yet there are certain definite steps in that way which He took and which He calls the Disciple to take. These steps your Commission has tried to set forth in the words Turn, Follow, Learn, Pray, Serve, Worship, Share. Words are merely labels, but there is a reality to the experiences which the words describe. We must face this reality and be ready to go through these experiences.

Most people who have been trying to play their part in the Forward Movement have given some, and in many cases much, heed to the first four steps in the Disciple's Way. These have to do with personal religion, or the relation of the individual to God. It is most important that there should ever be an emphasis upon the essential nature of Turn, Follow, Learn, Pray. Christ spent much of His time teaching the first disciples to take these steps. However, in answer to the question—"What next?" we call attention to the importance of the three steps Serve, Worship, Share. These represent those experiences which concern our relations with our fellows and our corporate relation to God. To stop short of these is to stop short of being a Christian because a true follower of Christ cannot be a self-contained individualist. These are the steps which, as we take them together, bind us into a corporate and unified organization. They give us that fellowship which is essential to the very life of the Church.

It is therefore our task during this present year to interpret these words so that they will have a very definite meaning for, and make a clear cut demand upon, the members of the Church. We must face what it means to serve in Church, community, society, business, nation and world. We must destroy many false ideas of worship, and bring men to the realization of the opportunity which corporate worship offers them both to give themselves to God and to receive the very life of God in return. We must substitute a willing sharing for a casual giving, a sharing which is based upon the fact that what we have does not belong to us alone, but is ours to pass on. Our material possessions, yes, and also whatever else we have—our time, energy, minds, sympathy, love, and most of all God's greatest gift to us—the knowledge of His Son Jesus Christ. And as we share we must be ready to bear that great symbol of sharing—the Cross—even though it means sacrifice and Calvary. Your Commission has certain literature on these last three steps, but the true meaning of the words Serve, Worship, Share will be breathed into them only as more and more people throughout the Church are eagerly seeking to take these steps, and enter fully into these experiences.

There is no easy road forward. In this venture we must keep one great fact constantly in mind—God's way forward is always hard. It was for His Son and it will be for us. The call to join in the Forward Movement does not come from General Convention, or any individuals or commission, but from God Himself. He is engaged in our eternal onward march, and He calls the members of the Church today to meet the turmoil and confusion of the world by uniting as Disciples of Christ in carrying forward His Gospel to all the world.

Introduction to the New Lectionary

Our present Prayer Book lectionary has come in for a good deal of criticism. It has not altogether stood the test of time and five years ago the possibility of revision was brought formally before the Church. At the General Convention at Denver resolutions asking for an alternative were referred to the Liturgical Commission; and the Bishop of Central New York presented a proposed table which it was well understood had been prepared by the Rev. C. E. Hill. The Commission understood those references to require some action upon its part. A subcommittee was appointed and work began.

Such a task is, however, extremely difficult especially when, as in this case, the members of the group entrusted with the work are of necessity widely scattered. The committee worked hard, none harder than the Bishop of Atlanta, chairman, and the Rev. C. E. Hill, to whose initiative and perseverance so much of the result is due. But when the Commission came to prepare its report for the Convention of 1934, there seemed so many points still undecided that it offered instead of a table of lessons a resolution that it "be instructed to prepare and issue for experimental use during the Church years (beginning in Advent) of 1935 and 1936 two tables of lessons, one complete and one for Sundays only and that the said lectionaries be authorized for use during the above years." This was adopted.

The committee has, however, not been able to obey the instructions in full. It presents only one table instead of two.

This table is presented for experimental use. No one is under obligation to use it, but we hope that many will. The Church intends and the Commission desires criticism. Comment should deal with the underlying plan and principles, as well as with the details. Aware of its inadequacies and seeking careful study and criticism, we nevertheless send it forth to the Church with the prayer that it may prove helpful in worship and a step forward in the effort to make the priceless treasures of the Scriptures once again as in the days of our nearer forefathers a part of the daily life and thought of our Church people.

EDWARD L. PARSONS,
Chairman Liturgical Commission.

The Order for Reading the Lessons

1. A selection from the Old Testament or the Apocrypha is appointed for the First Lesson and a selection from the New Testament is appointed for the Second Lesson at Morning and Evening Prayer throughout the year.

2. The Lessons to be read every day are to be found in the following Table of Lessons for the Christian Year.

3. In any church or chapel the Morning lessons may be read in the evening and the Evening lessons in the morning.

4. Any lesson may be lengthened or shortened at the Minister's discretion.

5. NOTE: The starred lessons provided for nearly every Sunday are intended especially for use when Morning Prayer with one lesson only precedes the Holy Communion; but also these lessons may be used as the Old Testament lessons when Morning Prayer is said in the regular way.

6. At Evening Prayer on Sunday, the Minister may read the Gospel for the Day as the New Testament Lesson.

7. Where an Octave is observed for any Holy Day, the lessons for the day may be used upon the Sunday in the Octave.

8. At an ordinary week-day service, any lessons appointed in the week may be used.

9. On special occasions the Minister may appoint such lessons as he may think suitable.

STYLE OF PUNCTUATION

In the system of punctuation adopted for the Lectionary, a hyphen (-) divides verses, and a dash (—) divides chapters. Thus:

Matt. 19:1-15 indicates that the first fifteen verses of the nineteenth chapter are to be read.

I John 3:16—4:6 indicates the passage beginning with the sixteenth verse of the third chapter and ending with the sixth verse of the fourth chapter.

Gen. 33 indicates that the entire chapter is to be read.

In the Tables of Lessons italic type is used to designate the Books of the Apocrypha.

BLACK-LETTER DAYS

The black-letter days given in the Lectionary are the commemorations proposed to General Convention in 1925 by the Commission on Revision of the Book of Common Prayer. The liturgical colors, however, are based upon the official Prayer Book commemorations only and do not take into consideration the black-letter days.

American Church Building Fund Commission

The work of this Commission during the year has as heretofore been greatly curtailed because of the small turnover of the Permanent Fund of $804,801.13 caused by the inability of Parishes to meet their amortization payments. This is a situation from which only slight signs of recovery are noticeable. In the crises of parochial inability to meet payments the Commission has granted generous help in the extension of notes of many Parishes affording temporary relief and kindly encouragement.

The Commission however has made six Loans of $26,500.00 for building purposes, and from its income account has also made twenty-eight Gifts of $19,130.00 for Parishes and Missions. Further promises of help have also been made and await fulfillment when the necessary papers have been prepared. These promises include eight Loans totalling $32,800.00 and eighteen Gifts aggregating $15,900.00.

American Church Institute for Negroes

While the Institute has succeeded in keeping out of debt during every year of the depression, by drastic economies and postponing, repairs to its 125 buildings and renewal of worn-out equipment cannot be indefinitely postponed. Indeed, it has been necessary during 1936 to make large expenditures for these purposes, in order to prevent serious deterioration of property. Because of its many old buildings, the St. Paul Normal and Industrial School has suffered most from our curtailments. Despite every economy within the minimum expenditure necessary to operate the school efficiently, the school has been obliged to curtail a considerable part of its excellent service and to borrow approximately $30,000 for repairs and other necessities, in the hope that now economic conditions are on the upward curve, friends will come to its rescue, discharge the debt, and provide sufficient income for the future.

With special help from the Institute and from friends, the other eight Schools will balance their budgets again this year. There are few systems of education or large schools and colleges in America which have survived so severe and prolonged a depression without incurring a much heavier deficit. It is sufficient to say that St. Paul's debt is not due to avoidable causes. Despite many difficulties, caused chiefly by the large reduction in income, the management of the school's business affairs has been creditable. The moral and spiritual influence of the St. Paul School over the student body and over many other thousands of Negroes in all parts of the country is one of the finest in the Church's missionary history.

An interesting and encouraging feature of the work of the Institute is the comparatively large number of students annually confirmed in the Schools. Confirmations during the last year were about 110, and the number of resident communicants of the Episcopal Church about five hundred. Thus the Institute Schools are constantly feeding the body of the Church with a superior group of young people, who in their school and college days have been drawn by conviction to this branch of the Catholic Church. It is a striking fact that about half of the entire student body and faculty of St. Augustine's College are Churchmen. It is reported that this is the highest percentage of confirmed students in any Church college or school in the country.

The enrolment of regular students for the school year 1935-36 was 4,100 in number, in addition to 8,200 adults and young people who attended the schools for brief special instruction and inspiration. When one recalls that most of these students are a selected group under the direct influence of the nine Institute Schools, the spiritual value of the immense service to a needy people rendered by the Episcopal Church through the Institute can be seen.

American Church Union

The American Church Union on Whitsunday, May 31st, 1936, succeeded the Catholic Congress as the organization which in this branch of the Church should labor for a realization of the Catholic Faith and practice of our heritage. With the 1933 Centenary Congress in Philadelphia one phase of the work seemed to be completed. While there will still be need, from time to time, for large general meetings and the enthusiasm which they engender, the immediate objectives would seem to be a much more thorough and widely diffused education in the first principles of the Faith. All the continuous works of the Congress will be carried on such as the Cycle of Prayer, the Linked Altars, Institutes for Priests and Laity, the School of Sociology and other Schools, the Lecture Courses, Regional Conferences and Instruction Groups, and to this must be added such other activities as shall meet immediate needs.

The American Church Union will provide much more concrete and definite ways by which the laity may have a direct participation in the work than was possible within the former organization. To this end a Holding Committee was set up which should carry on the work between Whitsunday and November when a meeting will be held for the adoption of the new constitution in its final form and such by-laws as may be necessary. Shortly thereafter there will be a general election for the officers and Executive Committee of the new American Church Union in which both clergy and laity will have an opportunity of voting.

The present organization is analogous to the Church Unions already in existence in England, Canada, Australia, South Africa and other parts of the Anglican Church. It will attempt to do, with methods practical in this country, what they are doing for the Faith.

Aves, Henry Damerel, D.D. (223)

The Rt. Rev. Henry Damerel Aves, D.D., retired Bishop of Mexico, died after a long illness, in Houston, Texas, September 20, 1936, in his 83d year.

Henry Damerel Aves was born in Huron County, Ohio, July 10, 1853. After graduating from Kenyon College in 1878, he studied law for two years, then entered Bexley Hall, the divinity school of Kenyon College; was ordained deacon in 1883, and ordained priest the following year by Bishop Bedell. Rutherford College awarded him the degree of Doctor of Laws in 1901 and Kenyon College the degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1905. He was in charge of St. Paul's Church, Mt. Vernon, Ohio, for one year; rector of St. John's Church, Cleveland, Ohio to 1892; rector of Christ Church, Houston, Texas to 1904, when the General Convention in Boston elected him first missionary Bishop of Mexico. He was consecrated on December 14, 1904, and proceeded shortly thereafter to Mexico. In 1923, after 19 years of service in an extraordinarily difficult field, Bishop Aves resigned.

The funeral service was held in Christ Church, Houston. Burial was in Seabrook, Texas, where Bishop Aves spent his last years. He is survived by four children, Mrs. U. H. Berthier and W. L. Aves of Mexico, D. R. Aves and Henry D. Aves of Texas.

Bartlett, Frederick Bethune, D.D. (382)

The Rt. Rev. Frederick Bethune Bartlett, D.D., consecrated Bishop of the Missionary District of North Dakota on December 16, 1931, was translated to the Missionary District of Idaho by the House of Bishops at the annual meeting held in Houston, Texas, in November, 1935. (A sketch of Bishop Bartlett's life appeared in The Living Church Annual of 1932.)

Blind, Literature for

The committee on literature for the blind, under the Department of Domestic Missions, is composed of the Rt. Rev. Philip Cook, D.D., the Rt. Rev. Frederick B. Bartlett, D.D., the Rev. Dr. William H. Milton, Dr. John Wood, and Mrs. W. J. Loaring-Clark, Jackson, Tenn., Secretary. As far as its funds allow, it publishes literature of the Church in Braille, which is given to the blind. Several of the Church services have been transcribed into Braille and a number of hand-transcribers are always ready to answer special requests from the clergy and others.

A monthly magazine, The Church Herald for the Blind, is published, some 625 copies serving over seven hundred blind persons. It contains the Church Kalendar, a special message from some bishop or leader in various phases of the Church's work; prayers, articles, poems, hymns, and current news from at home and abroad; Church school lessons as published in The Bible Class and Home Department Quarterly; and some book is given serially—at the time of writing, The Church of the Middle Way, by the Rev. Dr. Thomas Tracy Walsh, is being transcribed.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew in the United States

During the past year the Brotherhood of St. Andrew has given renewed emphasis to the Young Men's Division, especially in the organization of a Provincial Assembly by the older boys and young men of the Fifth Province. Their first provincial convention was held at Camp Houghteling, Muskegon, Mich., from August 30 to September 5, 1936, with approximately fifty representatives present. Tadao Kaneko, secretary of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in Japan, was the guest of honor at this convention, bringing greetings from the five-year-old national Brotherhood organization of Japan. Preceding and following the convention, Mr. Kaneko made a tour of the United States, visiting Brotherhood Assemblies and various other centers of Church activity.

Arrangements are under way for the holding of similar Older Boys' Conventions in the various other provinces within the next few months.

During Lent, a boys' work program was promoted by the Brotherhood and participated in by a large number of parishes. This program included a father and son banquet, followed by parochial and inter-parochial week end conferences for parents and leaders of boys. In addition, Lenten Boys' Clubs were formed, and the members met on weekday evenings during Lent to study the special Lenten Course, "Followers in the Way," furnished by the Brotherhood. The fourth annual Lenten Study and Discussion Course on Personal Religion was issued under the title, "A Living Faith for a Changing Age." This was used in approximately seven hundred parishes.

A Young Men's Weekend Conference on Religion and Life was held at the College of Preachers, Washington, D. C., and representatives from ten dioceses were present. This was followed by a number of similar weekend conferences in strategic centers, held by those who participated in the Washington Conference. The conferences were devoted to frank discussions of the difficulties and problems of young men of today in their Christian faith and life.

A series of weekend conferences of fathers and leaders of boys on "Personality Development and Character Building" is planned for next year with program source material furnished by the national headquarters of the Brotherhood.

The Triennial National Convention of the Brotherhood will be held at Cincinnati from October 1 to 5, 1937, immediately preceding General Convention.

The Brotherhood in Other Lands: The Brotherhood has been steadily expanding its organization abroad, until now there are national or local branches of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in thirteen foreign countries, as follows: Canada, England, Australia, New Zealand, Belgium, China, Japan, Cuba, Jamaica, British Honduras, Mexico, Liberia, and the Philippine Islands.

At the 68th annual convention of the diocese of Central New York held at Grace Church, Utica, N. Y., May 5, 1936, the Rt. Rev. Edward Huntington Coley, D.D., Suffragan Bishop of the diocese, was elected diocesan.

Church Pension Fund

Since the inception of The Church Pension Fund on March 1, 1917, a total of approximately $19,000,000 has been paid out in pension benefits. On October 1, 1936, the annual pension roll stood at $1,226,597, being at the rate of over $100,000 a month. Ten years ago the annual pension roll stood at $587,093.

In the early part of the year 1936, the Trustees of the Fund readopted their annual resolutions, controlling the use of surplus income, as a result of which the practice of increasing the scale of pensions substantially above the original promises is being continued. At present, the average age allowance is approximately $1,000 a year, whereas the average under the original promises would have been only $600 or less. In addition, there is also being continued the practice, started in 1921, of sending an immediate check for $1,000 to the widow of each clergyman whose pension assessments have been properly paid and who dies in the active service of the Church. These actions are entirely dependent upon the financial status of the Fund each year and the resolutions authorizing these extra benefits are subject to renewal annually. The extension of these extra benefits to future beneficiaries of the Fund cannot, therefore, be guaranteed in advance, although the Trustees hope to continue the present practice.

The Church Pension Fund is operated upon an actuarial reserve basis and is administered under the supervision of the Insurance Department of the State of New York. Its present assets are carried on its books at approximately $31,000,000, which is reasonably in excess of its reserve liabilities. On October 1, 1936, the market value of its assets was substantially in excess of cost and book value.

The pension assessments continue to be paid with practical unanimity throughout the Church. They are being paid in at a rate in excess of $1,000,000 a year.

Church Periodical Club

In general the activities of the Church Periodical Club for the past year have been along customary lines. It is pleasant, however, to record increasing coöperation with the officers in the Church Army. Both captains and mission sisters are turning to the Club for the kind of help it can give; books and magazines for distribution, books for libraries in rural schools and communities, pictures, games, etc. Included in their list of needs are articles not usually classified under the C.P.C., cameras, musical instruments, mimeographs, all useful in their work.

In addition to material for the evangelists, it has been a joy to aid in building up the library at the Training Center. Books are supplied under the guidance of the warden, the Rev. John W. Chapman, whose expert advice makes certain the wise selection of such books as it is possible to purchase. The C.P.C. is proud to lend a hand in this way to the wonderful service given by our youngest coöperating agency, the Church Army.

Church Press

The Spirit of Missions, official missionary magazine of the Church, celebrated its centennial in 1936, having been published without interruption every month since January, 1836. It is said to be the seventh oldest magazine in the United States. Among the distinguished editors in the past were the Rev. Charles E. Betticher, Dr. Robert E. Gibson, Dr. (later Bishop) Arthur Selden Lloyd, Dr. (later Bishop) Hugh Latimer Burleson, and Dr. John W. Wood. Its present able editor is the Rev. Dr. G. Warfield Hobbs.

The weekly periodicals are the backbone of the Church press. The Southern Churchman, entering its 101st year, modernized its typography and became more of a national Church paper, under the editorship of the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Sheerin. The Living Church celebrated the centennials of the dioceses of New York and Chicago with special issues, and continued its liberal Catholic outlook under the editorship of Clifford P. Morehouse. The year's feature in the Witness was a series of articles just before the presidential election on "Why, as a Churchman, I shall vote for ———." Not now a weekly but a bi-weekly, the Churchman continued despite the blow of an adverse libel judgment, which was sustained on appeal. During the summer the Churchman appeared temporarily on a monthly basis.

An encouraging sign is the revival or inauguration of diocesan papers in dioceses that have not had them in recent years. Added to the list this year are the Idaho Messenger, El Heraldo (Mexico, monthly), Diocesan Advance (Missouri, monthly), Forward in Tennessee (monthly), Church News (West Virginia, monthly), Western Nebraska Churchman (monthly), the Kansas Churchman (monthly, except August and September), and The Sheaf (North Dakota, five issues per year). The Arkansas Churchman, The Church in Georgia and in Atlanta the Diocesan Record have been resumed, the last two on a quarterly basis. Only one diocesan paper, the Florida Church Herald, has ceased publication.

The Historical Magazine continues to perform a valuable service in making the records of the Church's history accessible, its chief contribution this year being a special issue devoted to the story of the General Theological Seminary. The American Church Monthly has a special section in each issue devoted to the work of the American Church Union, formerly the Catholic Congress.

The Episcopal Pulpit is a new quarterly publication edited by the Very Rev. Earl Ray Hart, devoted to the preaching ministry of the Church. The Episcopal Church Evangelist is a coöperative parish paper published on a national scale under the editorship of the Rev. Smythe H. Lindsay. Another coöperative parish paper, in which several congregations share, is The Evangel.

Two new periodicals are added to the foreign list—Vanguard, published by the Canadian Church Union, and the Scottish Churchman.

Completing post-graduate work at the General Theological Seminary in 1917, he became rector of St. Mary's Church, Keyport, N. Daughters of the King Steady increase in membership and in the acknowledgment of the power of spiritual forces in prayer and service have been maintained throughout 1936. Through the Order's earnest coöperation with the Forward Movement, many new Chapters have been formed.

Each Church training school gave scholarships to several young women, and there are now some thirty-three of these workers equipped and serving in dioceses both at home and abroad.

Bishop's Chapters have increased, and Daughters who live in rural and isolated places where there are no Chapters have been admitted.

The Bible, the Book of Common Prayer, or Church history form part of each Chapter study program. Our Executive was placed on the faculty of several summer schools and has addressed many meetings in different dioceses.

The Order is increasing in Canada, and the Short Term School conducted by our missionary in China has received gifts from the Daughters which will enable more than one hundred extra students to enroll.

Junior Daughters show a marked increase in membership and enthusiasm, and rapid strides in study, fellowship, and service have been made.

Davies, Thomas Frederick, D.D. (254)

At his summer home in Lenox, Mass., the Rt. Rev. Thomas Frederick Davies, D.D., Bishop of Western Massachusetts, died on August 25, 1936.

He was graduated from the General Theological Seminary in 1897; was ordained deacon that year by his father, the Bishop of Michigan, who also ordained him to the priesthood the following year. As a deacon, he served as curate at the Church of the Incarnation, New York City, where he stayed through 1900; in 1901 he became rector of Christ Church, Norwich, Conn.; in 1903 he became rector of All Saints' Church, Worcester, Mass., and served there until 1911 when he was elected, at a special meeting of the convention of the diocese, as Bishop of Western Massachusetts. He was consecrated on October 18, 1911. During his episcopacy he aided in the establishment of more than twenty-nine churches and missions in his diocese, and confirmed some 15,000 persons.

Bishop Davies was the author of numerous articles and several books of both prose and poetry. His first book, All Saints' Sonnets was privately published. In 1917 there appeared Priestly Potentialities, and in 1925 Personal Progress in Religion. The Charm of Trees was published in 1930; The Diversion of Staying at Home, in 1935; and early in 1936, another little book, After Confirmation, What?

Interment took place at Lenox, Mass. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Anne M. T. Patten Davies, and two sisters, Miss Marion Davies of Lenox, and Mrs. Haines of New York.

Essex, William Leopold, D.D. (396)

On September 29, 1936, the Rev. William Leopold Essex, D.D., was consecrated Bishop of Quincy in St. Paul's Church, Peoria, Ill. The Presiding Bishop of the Church, the Most Rev. James DeWolf Perry, D.D., was the consecrator, assisted by Bishop Gray of Northern Indiana, and Bishop Stewart of Chicago. Bishop White of Springfield and Bishop Wilson of Eau Claire were the presentors. The epistle was read by Bishop Scarlett of Missouri; the gospel by Bishop Longley of Iowa; Bishop Francis of Indianapolis preached the sermon, and Bishop Ivins of Milwaukee read the litany. Other Bishops present were: Bishops Spencer of West Missouri, Sturtevant of Fond du Lac, who read the consents of the bishops, and Whittemore, Coadjutor of Western Michigan. The Bishops of Springfield, Eau Claire, Iowa, Indianapolis, and Milwaukee joined in the laying on of hands.

William Leopold Essex was born at Piermont, N. Y., February 8, 1886, the son of William and Elizabeth (Looser) Essex. He attended Columbia University and the General Theological Seminary. He was ordained deacon in 1910; ordained priest in 1911; served as assistant at Trinity Church, Newport, R. I.; curate at St. Peter's Church, St. Louis, Mo.; rector of Trinity Church, Rock Island, Ill., from 1918 to 1925; then was rector of St. Paul's Church, Peoria, Ill., until his election to the episcopate in 1936. He has been prominent in diocesan affairs as president of the standing committee, an examining chaplain, and several times a deputy to General Convention.

Forward Movement

The Forward Movement has now been in active operation for nearly two years. Its public work began in Lent 1935.

What has it accomplished toward attaining its goals?

1. For the deepening of personal religion and daily habits of devotion it has prepared the Bible Readings with comments, practical suggestions, and prayers in Forward day-by-day. This has been widely distributed; altogether nearly 5,000,000 copies have been bought and paid for. Wherever the distribution of this has been wisely done, and has been in some way personalized and carefully explained, splendid results have followed. Of it Bishop Stewart has said, "The Forward Movement has furnished our people with a daily devotional manual which is terse and searching in its message and in its expression. It has come like clean sunlight into our homes and irradiated hundreds of thousands of lives with the divine love and a longing to serve God better." In addition to regular congregations from coast to coast, this manual goes into prisons, reformatories, hospitals, sanitoriums, camps, schools, and to the employees in business houses.

Adapted to Japanese use it has been translated and is distributed to 271 congregations in Japan. It goes to every one of our foreign mission fields; used in Canada, it goes into homes of struggling and scattered settlers far to the North. It is sent to our fellow countrymen residing in Europe. To the isolated in our own land it proves not only a tie which unites them to God, but to their own fellow Christians in this communion around the world. Translated into Braille it brings cheer and spiritual stimulation to at least 1,200 blind. It has helped forward the habit of daily listening to the voice of God in thousands of lives. Much of the blessing which comes from the use of Forward day-by-day is due to the fact that we are seeking Him and His will together.

Besides Forward day-by-day, the Commission on the Forward Movement has provided other literature for special use which has had a wide circulation. The Coming of the Light, a Christmas-tide booklet for children, had a circulation of one hundred thousand and was the means of having Christmas celebrated in tens of thousands of homes as the birthday of Christ instead of a secular festival. A second children's Christmas booklet is in preparation. During the Epiphany season material dealing with the program of the Church for young people and children was widely used. The outline course, Religion in Family Life, prepared under the direction of the Women Associates of the Forward Movement, has been the basis for the study of this vital problem by many individuals and groups.

Other new pieces of literature are now available, including Proving Prayer, Our Father, and Why Be a Christian? A series of "Guides" on specially chosen topics is being prepared, the first being Forward Into All the World.

2. Clergy and other workers have been helped to new courage—to use better methods and to secure a more earnest response from a people quickened into new life.

The two courses prepared by the Commission for use with the clergy have been of the greatest help, and are still available for clergy conferences and study groups—The Spiritual Preparation of Clergymen and The Rector and Parish Administration.

In response to a general demand the Commission has issued about once a month a news letter called Forward Today to all clergy and other leaders of the Church. This has made it possible to bring features of the Forward Movement program directly to the attention of those concerned, and to pass on many suggestions as to successful plans and programs which have been tried throughout the Church.

3. Dioceses have developed many splendid Forward Movement programs. Some dioceses are using existing organizations to lead in such programs. Others have appointed special groups. A diocesan committee is (preferably) a joint committee of clergyman, laymen and laywomen, coming together to think through for the diocese the implications of the Movement. They now have been established in thirty-three dioceses.

4. Retreats for the clergy and conferences on personal religion and parish methods have been held in larger numbers than in any former year of our Church's history. These conferences have been stimulating and constructive in planning diocesan and parochial programs, and have been a factor in binding the clergy into a new fellowship through prayer; the honest facing of the reasons for failure and mutual resolve for more disciplined lives.

5. In many places there have been formed small groups of clergy and laymen (after Christ's method) for the deepening of the spiritual life.

6. Diocesan and parochial self-appraisal with the aim of discovering new opportunities of service is going on in an increasing number.

7. Parochial missions have been planned and carried through, and diocese-wide missions held.

Gardner, Wallace John, D.D. (395)

The Rev. Wallace John Gardner, D.D., was consecrated Bishop Coadjutor of New Jersey in Trinity Cathedral, Trenton, N. J., June 3, 1936, by Bishop Matthews of New Jersey with Bishop Davis of Western New York and Bishop Stires of Long Island as co-consecrators. Bishops Sherrill of Massachusetts and Creighton, Suffragan of Long Island, were the presentors. Bishop Manning of New York preached the sermon and Bishop Colmore of Puerto Rico read the consents of the bishops. Other bishops participating in the service were: Bishop Cook of Delaware, Bishop Taft of Pennsylvania, Bishop Washburn of Newark, Bishop Budlong of Connecticut, Bishop Ludlow, Suffragan of Newark, the Rt. Rev. William Hall Moreland, D.D., retired, and the Rt. Rev. Granville Gaylord Bennett, D.D., assistant in Rhode Island.

Dr. Gardner was born in Buffalo, N. Y., July 25, 1883, the son of Frederick A. and Sarah Jane McConnell Gardner. After graduating from high school in Catskill, N. Y., he went to St. Stephen's College, Annandale, N. Y., from which he received his M.A. degree in 1907 and the degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1923. On graduating from the General Theological Seminary in 1911, he was made deacon and advanced to the priesthood in 1912. All of his ministry has been spent in the diocese of Long Island. He was successively: nine years chaplain of St. Giles the Cripple, Garden City, L. I.; chaplain of the Cathedral Schools of St. Mary and St. Paul, Garden City, L. I.; and for fourteen years rector of St. Paul's Church, Flatbush, Brooklyn. He was vicar of the Chapel of the Intercession, in the City of New York, from 1933 to 1936 when he was elected Bishop Coadjutor of New Jersey at a diocesan convention held in Trinity Cathedral, Trenton, on March 10, 1936. He was chosen on the fifth ballot.

Girls' Friendly Society of the U. S. A.

As a Church organization for young people, The Girls' Friendly Society believes that it is its responsibility to help them find their way in today's world—to help them face the need for industrial and economic justice, for international and interracial understanding. The G.F.S. is, therefore, offering a series of programs under the title "Christian Citizenship." World peace, inter-racial understanding, social service, the movies, the radio, personality, and religion are all part of this general theme. Local groups also include in their programs dramatics, handicrafts, hobbies, parties, and nature study, as well as the annual mission study. With the wide variety of programs offered, each branch may choose the activities that interest it most.

The Girls' Friendly Society also serves the Church in the parish, diocese, and mission field. During the past six years the national society has forwarded to the National Council of the Church $14,341.88 contributed by G.F.S. branches and dioceses for special work in the mission field. During this same period G.F.S. branches have given in addition $42,875.64 to the Church and missions in general, making a total of $57,217.52 given to the work of the Church.

The membership of a G.F.S. branch may be one or more of these groups: Candidates—Girls from 5 to 12 years of age lend themselves enthusiastically to an organization; Younger Members—Girls from 13 to 18 years of age; Older Members—Girls and young women over 18.

Adult advisors, called "associates," work with each local branch of the society. These volunteer leaders are Church women who are sympathetic towards girls and eager to help them to find their place in today's world. The society offers training through regional conferences and publications, by which leaders may gain help in understanding the girl of today and her needs. The relationship between advisors and girls is one of comradeship.

Kentucky, Diocese of

The Rev. Charles Clingman, D.D., was elected Bishop of Kentucky on January 23, 1936, at the annual diocesan convention held in Louisville, Ky. He was consecrated in Christ Church Cathedral, Louisville, on April 22, 1936.

Knight, Albion Williamson, D.D. (224)

On June 9, 1936, the Rt. Rev. Albion Williamson Knight, D.D., retired, died in Riverside Hospital, Jacksonville, Fla., after an illness of three weeks. He was 77 years old.

The Rt. Rev. Albion W. Knight, D.D., was first missionary bishop of Cuba and served for ten years in that office. He was born at White Springs, Fla., August 24, 1859, and was graduated from the University of the South; he was ordained deacon in 1881 and two years later was advanced to the priesthood. He was a general missionary in South Florida during his diocese and was rector of St. Mark's, Palatka, Fla., from 1884 to 1886; rector of St. Andrew's, Jacksonville, Fla., from 1886 to 1893; then dean of St. Philip's Cathedral, Atlanta, Ga., from 1893 to 1904. The General Convention of 1904 elected him Bishop of Cuba and he reached that field in January, 1905. He also served at various times as Bishop in charge of Haiti, Puerto Rico, and the Panama Canal Zone.

He resigned his jurisdiction in 1913 to become vice-chancellor and president of the University of the South, serving in that capacity until 1923 when he became Bishop Coadjutor of New Jersey. This office he resigned, due to ill health, in the autumn of 1935, and returned to Florida to reside.

Funeral services were held in St. John's Church, and burial was in Evergreen Cemetery, Jacksonville.

Bishop Knight is survived by his widow, Mrs. Miriam Powell Knight, and by a daughter, Mrs. Ada Knight Harper, of Jacksonville, Fla.

Kroll, Leopold (390)

The Very Rev. Leopold Kroll, dean of Holy Trinity Cathedral, Port au Prince, Haiti, was elected Bishop of the Missionary District of Liberia by the House of Bishops at its meeting in November, 1935, at Houston, Texas, and was consecrated February 20, 1936, at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York City.

The Presiding Bishop, the Most Rev. James DeWolf Perry, D.D., was consecrator, assisted by Bishop Manning of New York and the Rt. Rev. Robert Erskine Campbell, D.D., former Bishop of Liberia, as co-consecrators. Bishop Lloyd, Suffragan of New York, and Bishop Matthews of New Jersey were the presenters. Bishop Stires of Long Island preached the sermon. Other bishops joining in laying on of hands were Bishop Creighton, Suffragan of Long Island, Bishop Gilbert, Suffragan of New York, Bishop Gribbin of Western North Carolina, and Bishop Ludlow, Suffragan of Newark.

The Rev. Leopold Kroll was born in New York City, December 26, 1874, the son of Leopold and Fredericka Elizabeth (Wibel) Kroll. He prepared for college in Trinity and Drisler Schools, New York, was graduated from the former St. Stephen's College, Annandale, N. Y., in 1897, and from the General Theological Seminary in 1900. He was ordained deacon and priest in 1900, and continued in parish work until 1908 when he began a long service under Bishop Restarick in the Hawaiian Islands where he remained until 1920. For four years of this time he was headmaster of Iolani School for Boys. An interval of parish work in the States was followed by his appointment to Bishop Carson's staff in Haiti in 1928. His work with members of the colored race began when as a student in the General Theological Seminary he was in charge of a Negro congregation.

Liberia, Missionary District of

The Very Rev. Leopold Kroll, dean of Holy Trinity Cathedral, Port au Prince, Haiti, was elected Bishop of Liberia by the House of Bishops at its meeting in November, 1935, at Houston, Texas, and was consecrated February 20, 1936, at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York City. He sailed within a month for his jurisdiction.

Lloyd, Arthur Selden, D.D. (244)

The Rt. Rev. Arthur Selden Lloyd, D.D., senior Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of New York, died on July 22, 1936, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Gavin Hadden, in Darien, Conn., at the age of 79.

Bishop Lloyd was born in Alexandria County, Va., on May 3, 1857, the son of John Janney and Eliza Armistead Selden Lloyd. He attended the Virginia Polytechnic Institute; graduated from the University of Virginia in 1876, and from the Virginia Theological Seminary in 1880; received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Roanoke College and from the University of the South. He was made deacon in 1880 and advanced to the priesthood in 1881; was in charge of the Church in Farmville, Va., from 1880 to 1885; was rector of St. Luke's Church, Norfolk, Va., from 1885 to 1900; general secretary of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Church from 1900 to 1909 when he was elected Bishop Coadjutor of Virginia. Consecrated on October 20, 1909, he served in that capacity for one year when he resigned to become president of the Board of Missions, which office he held until 1919. In 1921 he was elected Suffragan Bishop of New York.

Funeral services were held in Alexandria, Va. Interment was in the family plot.

Ludlow, Theodore Russell, D.D. (388)

The Rev. Theodore Russell Ludlow, D.D., rector of the Church of the Holy Communion, South Orange, N. J., was consecrated Suffragan Bishop of the diocese of Newark in St. Paul's Church, Paterson, N. J., January 25, 1936.

The consecrator was the Most Rev. James DeWolf Perry, D.D., Bishop of Rhode Island and Presiding Bishop of the Church, assisted by Bishop Cook of Delaware and the Rt. Rev. Wilson R. Stearly, D.D., former Bishop of Newark. The presenting bishops were Bishop Washburn of Newark and Bishop Larned, Suffragan of Long Island. Bishop Hobson of Southern Ohio delivered the sermon. Other bishops attending were Bishop Gilbert, Suffragan of New York, Bishop Creighton, Suffragan of Long Island, and Bishop Budlong of Connecticut.

Dr. Ludlow was born in Valley Creek, Texas, July 14, 1883. He graduated from Austin College in 1903; from Columbia Law School in 1907 when he was admitted to the New York bar; and from the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge in 1911. He was ordained deacon on June 6, 1911 by Bishop Lawrence of Massachusetts, sailed for China to teach in Boone University, Wuchang, and in 1912 was advanced to the priesthood by Bishop Roots of Hankow. From 1916 to 1918 he assisted Dr. Wood in the Church Missions House; in 1918 he was summoned to France to work with the Chinese Labor Battalion; in 1920 he became rector of St. Paul's Church, Newton Highlands, Mass., and lecturer on canon law at the Episcopal Theological School; in 1923 he was made dean of Grace Church Cathedral, Topeka Kansas; in 1927 he became secretary of the Division of Adult Education in the Department of Religious Education, National Council; in 1931 he accepted a call to the rectorship of the Church of the Holy Communion, South Orange, N. J. He was elected Suffragan Bishop of Newark at a special diocesan convention on October 22, 1935.

McKim, John, D.D. (167)

The Rt. Rev. John McKim, D.D., retired Bishop of the Missionary District of North Tokyo, died in Honolulu, Hawaii, April 4, 1936, following a brief illness.

Bishop McKim was one of the veteran missionaries of the Church. He was born the son of Mary Ann (Dunbar) and James McKim on July 17, 1852 in Pittsfield, Mass., where he spent his youth. Later he went to Griswold College, Davenport, Iowa. His Theological training was received at Nashotah House, Nashotah, Wis., where he was ordained deacon in 1878, and advanced to the priesthood in 1879. In 1880 he volunteered for service in the Japan mission field and served for thirteen years as a missionary priest until 1893 when he was elevated to the episcopate. In all he gave fifty-four years of his life to the Church in Japan, retiring in November, 1935 to spend his declining days in Honolulu.

Bishop McKim is survived by four children, three of whom were missionaries in Japan: the Rev. John Cole McKim, now of Peekskill, N. Y.; the Misses Bessie and Nellie McKim, who are still on the mission staff; and W. M. McKim of Sterling and Morrison, Ill. On May 4, 1924, Bishop McKim married Elizabeth Baird of Quebec, who also survives him.

The interment of Bishop McKim's ashes is in the cemetery at Nashotah House, Nashotah, Wis.

National Council—Department of Domestic Missions

The missionary work in the Domestic Field has been hampered by reduced appropriations from the General Church, and some golden opportunities have been lost, but in spite of existing conditions our effort to evangelize the people of our country has been sustained at a remarkably high standard of efficiency in 1936. Our missionaries have carried their heavy loads with splendid devotion. Few of our Church people in the larger centers of population realize the sacrifices that these men and women have made. Already overburdened with many mission stations, they hear the call of neglected people in remote places and serve them when it is physically possible.

Salaries are inadequate. Travel allowances have been cut to a minimum. In many places our missionaries travel at their own expense. Their cars are in a deplorable condition. Although the whole field of Domestic Missions requires intensive pastoral care, we shall soon be reduced to the level of merely holding services, if conditions do not improve. With our large areas and our limited number of missionaries, it is becoming increasingly difficult to minister to our own Church people, to say nothing about winning the neglected millions who are in great need.

The Rural Field: Most of the work of Domestic Missions is concerned with the rural field. We must win the rural population for the Church, or we shall lose our grip on urban America. Any intelligent observer understands what the country Church has done for the city Church. Just as new blood from the country must be poured into the life-stream of the city, or it perishes, so the Church must build in the rural areas, or die in the urban centers. Our Church has begun to recognize this fact. Some of our finest young men from the seminaries have offered themselves for service in the rural field. None but the best can help us win rural America for Christ.

The work which we do in small towns, agricultural and mining villages, and open country seldom becomes self-supporting, because of the tremendous loss of young life which cannot be absorbed in rural areas and must seek wider opportunities in the city. Our task is to win these young people before they leave their homes so that they may take to the larger centers the great values of rural life tempered by the idealism of the Christian religion. If America is to become a Christian nation, everything depends upon the Church's mission to our rural families.

While our missions are to be found in every state in the union, they are not adequately served. Intensive work is almost impossible because of limited resources in men and material. We have golden opportunities, and they should be seized before it is too late.

Southern Mountains: The work in the Southern Mountains deserves the highest commendation. It will grow steadily through the years as it has in the past. Here again there are vast areas where thousands of people need the ministrations of the Church. We must send into the field more missionaries—especially nurses, agriculturists, and social service workers—who will take the Gospel of the more abundant life into the lonely places where these people live. The Department is anxious to extend this work as soon as adequate resources are available.

Negro Work: Our Negro work will grow apace when the Church faces its responsibility to these people with a common purpose and a unified policy. Meanwhile, we are doing what we can while millions of our colored brethren, neglected and unchurched, are ready and eager for the loving care and wise guidance which our Church can provide.

Recently a preliminary survey of the work was made. At present the Department of Domestic Missions is making a thorough study of the problem as it applies to the whole Church, to the end that a policy may be set up which will be acceptable to our leaders in all sections of the Church.

The number of baptisms and confirmations shows an increase, but our great opportunity is slipping away. America needs the Negro and the values which he can bring to our common life. An investment in this field would bring large returns in the years to come.

Indian Work: There is a general opinion that the Indian is a vanishing race. Statistics show that this is not true. During the decade of 1910 to 1920 the Indian population showed an increase of 14%. A similar increase was shown in the Indian population for the following decade when, as a whole, the population of the United States increased only 17%.

About 336,000 is the present Indian population. Of these, only 75,000 can read and write, and not over 150,000 have been Christianized. Both the Government and the Church have a great task to perform, if the first Americans are to receive justice and fair play and be trained to take their place in American life.

Church work with the Indian people has been carried on with great success for many years. Our outstanding achievement in this field is found in the District of South Dakota, where the Episcopal Church is the Church of the Dakota Indians. Due to the cut in appropriations, this work is in jeopardy. In 1936, by a special appeal, we have been able to save our Indian institutions. One, and possibly two, of them may be forced to close in 1937. If this happens, it will be a disgrace to the Church. Not only are these institutions in jeopardy, but the work in the whole field has been impaired during a period in which the Roman Catholic Church has been pouring money and workers into South Dakota. We shall lose our influence among the Dakota Indians unless the General Church increases its giving to this missionary enterprise.

Mexicans: It is estimated that there are at least 1,500,000 Mexicans in the United States. The Roman Catholic Church does not serve them. Other Churches are doing what they can, yet fully half of these people have no Church affiliation. The Episcopal Church is providing aid for Mexican missions in the Districts of Arizona and New Mexico. The work is excellent, but it is terribly inadequate, in view of the tremendous opportunities. It is our purpose to set up two new missions in 1937. Two young men who are training for this special type of service will graduate from the seminary next year and be ready for appointment in the District of Arizona. When they are in the field we shall be able to develop a work for the Mexican people which will do credit to the purpose and resources of this great Church.

Oriental: Five years ago we made a study of the Orientals in America, with special attention to those who live on the Pacific Coast. The Church was given accurate information regarding their difficulties and needs. During the five years only one new mission has been organized—for the Japanese people in Portland, Oregon. It is our hope to be able to institute at least two new missions during the coming year—in the San Joaquin Valley, California (District of San Joaquin), and in the White River Valley, Washington (Diocese of Olympia).

Little attention is given by any communion to the spiritual needs of thousands of Filipinos who work in the fields during the summer and are segregated in the worst sections of our cities during the winter. Something must be done for them by the Christian Churches, if they are to be saved from becoming a social menace.

There are large sections in the vast area of the Province of the Pacific where the Church can undertake work for these neglected Oriental people without competition with any other Christian communion.

Opportunities: In the whole Domestic Mission Field opportunities for extension of our work are to be found on every side. Constant adjustments are being made to meet the shifting population. Now and then some mission is closed in order to meet a larger opportunity elsewhere. Our leaders are alert and appropriations are wisely used. The Church should feel confidence in the work that is being done.

In the Domestic Mission Field we give aid to 290 white clergy, 44 colored clergy, 23 Indian clergy, 88 catechists and lay workers in the Indian field; support 99 women workers, pay the salaries of 15 missionary bishops, and assist in the maintenance of 23 institutions.

National Council—Department of Foreign Missions

An improvement in conditions that have hampered the missionary work of the Church overseas for several years marked the year 1936. In many instances antagonisms which were sometimes the source and sometimes the product of exaggerated nationalism were modified. People to whom this Church has been carrying our Lord's message of an abundant life found that a purely materialistic view of life did not enable them to make progress along worthwhile pathways. They saw more clearly that the kind of personal character which the Christian way of life is capable of producing is the key to both personal redemption and national progress.

In the homeland the greatest weakness lay in the tendency to dilute the Christian Gospel and to lose hold on the Christian fundamentals expressed in such principles as the Fatherhood of God, the Brotherhood of Man, the love of God manifested in the incarnation, and the universality and uniqueness of the Christian Gospel. No easy-going, humanistic philosophy will ever supply the will and power needed to win all men to the discipleship of Jesus.

The Forward Movement authorized by the General Convention of 1934 was striving valiantly to bring home to every member of the Church the meaning of Christian faith and profession. It rightly emphasized the fact that the way to the recovery of Christian enterprise must be found in spiritual growth, in deepened conviction of the truth of the Christian revelation, and in more intelligent and earnest use of the resources of prayer. With equal wisdom, it emphasized that adventure for God in far places is one of the surest ways of winning the courage to undertake and the power to accomplish worthy purposes at home.

Latin America: Late in 1935, the Rt. Rev. W. M. M. Thomas, Bishop of Southern Brazil, completed the first ten years of his episcopate. They were years of notable achievement, as is evidenced by the erection of eighteen new churches, only six of which received any help outside of Brazil. In addition, fourteen parish houses and rectories were added to the diocesan equipment, the Southern Cross School for Boys at Porto Alegre was enlarged, and St. Margaret's School for Girls, Pelotas, was erected. The building for the last named, made possible through a grant from the 1931 United Thank Offering and from undesignated legacies, was formally opened before a distinguished company on June 24, 1936. But the progress was not entirely along purely material lines. The number of baptized members of the Church in Brazil in 1936 was larger than ever before.

This progress was made by adhering to the policy that a mission once established, provided it shows reasonable growth, should not be abandoned, leaving its membership to look elsewhere for moral and religious reinforcement. In spite of reduced appropriations no stations were closed. This does not mean unreasonable budget askings, but rather that the difference between the reduced budget and the necessary expenditure was made up in the field. Where this can be done ground is gained, but there is a limit beyond which it is not reasonable to look for such aid from the field. Further reduction would mean closing in spite of sound theories.

The past year brought some improvement in political and economic conditions to harassed Cuba. One result was seen in the reduced danger to missionaries traveling about in discharge of duty. This meant that more care could be given to the nurturing of new work. The district as a whole however, was seriously hampered by lack of staff and enforced reduction of missionary aid. There was an increase in baptisms, confirmations, adherents, and Sunday school members. The Church in Cuba continued to serve rural sections neglected by the dominant Church. As a result, the antagonism of the latter Church was frequently incurred, even though our misadventures were not trying to serve their people. It was necessary for lack of staff eastern part of the Province of Oriente. The outstanding Church schools in Havana and Guantanamo showed fine progress. In Havana, the Cathedral School had an enrollment of 170, of whom four-fifths were Cubans, while the remaining 34 were representatives of eight different nations.

Under Bishop Carson's fostering care and leadership, the Church's work in Haiti, the Dominican Republic, and the Panama Canal Zone, speaking three different languages, continued to go forward. Few people realize that the confirmations in Haiti alone, numbering 540 for the year, are more numerous than the confirmations in fifty-five home dioceses.

The Church in Haiti suffered a serious loss when the Very Rev. Leopold Kroll, the only white priest on the diocesan staff, was elected Bishop of Liberia. Early in 1936, the Rev. Dr. Robert F. Lau went to Port au Prince as acting dean of the Cathedral. This year also marked the seventy-fifth anniversary of the beginning of work in Haiti under the leadership of the Rt. Rev. Theodore Holly, D.D., who afterwards became the Bishop of the Orthodox Apostolic Church in Haiti. Shortly after his death the authorities of that Church asked that it be received as a mission of the Church in the United States.

Work in the Dominican Republic suffered through the retirement of two of the three members of the staff. Effective work was carried on under the leadership of the Rev. A. H. Beer at San Pedro de Macoris, where church and school flourished despite utterly inadequate buildings. From St. Stephen's Church fine service was rendered to the West Indian laborers on a number of sugar plantations.

The mission in Panama continued its unique ministry to representatives of the Army and Navy and the other Canal employees stationed on this international highway. Work among the Negro people in Colon and Panama City, as well as on the line of the Canal, maintained its high standard even though extension was impossible under present conditions. The Children's Home continued its merciful work, and occasional visits were paid to the Government leper colony at Palo Seco.

The Rt. Rev. Efrain Salinas y Velasco, D.D., Bishop of Mexico, convinced that the cathedral church of the diocese should be predominantly, though not exclusively, Mexican, designated the Church of San Jose de Gracia as his cathedral. Christ Church, Mexico City, used exclusively by an English-speaking congregation, was formerly the cathedral. The San Jose Church was given years ago by the Mexican Government to what was known as the "Reform Movement," headed by Mexicans, and out of which there has grown the Missionary District of Mexico, affiliated with the Church in the United States.

During 1936, under Bishop Salinas' wise guidance, all the Church work in the Republic advanced in spite of many difficulties. One of the most notable developments was in the Province of Jalisco. Where formerly there was only one weak congregation, in 1936 there were five organized missions with more than 500 communicants. St. Andrew's Industrial School continued to do good work in training young men for rural service. From among its graduates come recruits for the ministry of the Mexican Church. Educational work suffered through governmental restrictions and certain schools in the State of Hidalgo were closed. People whose children were enrolled in the schools petitioned the educational authorities to appoint to the faculty of the government schools, the former teachers in the Church schools. This request was complied with. The work of Casa Hooker went on satisfactorily under readjusted conditions.

Much to the distress of the Bishop of Puerto Rico and his people, the reduced appropriations of recent years necessitated reductions in both the American and Puerto Rican staff, especially in the educational work of the mission. In 1936 there were only three foreign clergy in addition to the Bishop. The loss in this direction was almost balanced by additions to the ranks of the Puerto Rican clergy, which made possible the continuance of the work in rural sections of the Island where the people have been so largely without spiritual ministrations of any kind. The modest seminary for training Puerto Rican young men for the ministry and St. Catherine's Training School for young women remained closed. Prolongation of this condition will mean inability to supply trained workers for important posts.

St. Luke's Hospital, Ponce, completed another year of effective service without incurring indebtedness. It not only rendered important physical aid to hundreds of Puerto Rico's needy sick but it gave spiritual as well as professional training to a fine group of young women in its School for Nurses. In 1935 its superintendent, Miss Ellen T. Hicks, completed thirty years of notable missionary service, thirteen in the Philippine Islands where she organized the present St. Luke's Hospital, and seventeen in Puerto Rico.

In spite of continuing economic prostration the three Virgin Island parishes were able to continue the support of their own clergy. Like most other missionary districts overseas, Puerto Rico each year takes pride in giving more than one hundred per cent of its quota for the general work of the Church.

Liberia: In March, 1936, the Church in Liberia celebrated with appropriate ceremonies the centenary of the establishment of the first mission of the Episcopal Church. The decade preceding the observance of this significant anniversary was a distressing one in the life of the Republic of Liberia. The difficulties of the worldwide economic depression were felt early on the West Coast of Africa, and were complicated and accentuated by grave political and social uncertainties. The findings of the International Commission on Slavery and Forced Labor, the unrest and uncertainties attendant upon a presidential election, the inactivity of the Government in effecting reforms, the withholding of recognition of the Liberian Government by the United States and Great Britain, and unrest in the Hinterland, all contributed to the difficulties of the Church's task in Liberia.

For many years the Church in Liberia looked forward to the centennial year, 1936, as a time when support from the Church in America for the work among Americo-Liberian congregations on the Coast might be relinquished, and during the past several years plan after plan designed to achieve this goal was put forward in meetings of various local convocations and in the annual convocations of the missionary district. Unfortunately the economic condition of Liberia prevented the carrying out of any of these plans.

In the meantime the economic situation in the United States, with the resultant reduction of resources of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society, necessitated a drastic curtailment of the Church's appropriations for work abroad. Liberia suffered through these heavy reductions to a greater extent than any other of the Church's overseas districts.

For 1935 the appropriation was less than half of the appropriation for 1925. This meant a large reduction in the number of workers both Liberian and American. Some of the work, however, formerly supported through the annual appropriation was carried on, so far as possible, by the offerings of local congregations. From Cape Mount as a base, efforts were begun to establish a chain of stations extending toward the interior. Some real progress was made in this connection by placing young men trained in St. John's School, Cape Mount, as teachers in a number of villages. Their work was reinforced by occasional visits of nurses trained at St. Timothy's Hospital. The happiest event of 1935 for Liberia was the return to the field of Miss Olive Meacham, head of the Julia C. Emery

School at Bromley. The great reduction in appropriations Bishop Campbell was called upon to make compelled him to ask Miss Meacham to retire. Her return was made possible by special funds. Results so far have justified the venture.

A physical breakdown in 1935 led Bishop Campbell to tender his resignation, which was accepted by the House of Bishops at its meeting in Houston, Texas. As his successor the House elected the Very Rev. Leopold Kroll, Dean of Holy Trinity Cathedral, Port au Prince, Haiti.

The Orient: Few people realize that in the number of baptized members, the Missionary District of the Philippine Islands stands number 33 in the list of 94 American dioceses and missionary districts. It has 19 clergy. Its baptized membership is 17,620. A southern diocese with practically the same number of baptized members has 62 clergy. A midwestern diocese of the same number of baptized members has 88 clergy. These figures suggest to some extent the load that our Philippine missionaries carried in 1936. This load has been accentuated further by delay in replacing retiring missionaries.

Whole communities in our work among the Igorots of the Mountain Province were without the necessary spiritual leadership. This creates a serious situation, especially among primitive people only just emerging from animistic paganism, with all its inhibitions and terrors. Because of their simple character they require the constant care and oversight of the clergy.

The Chinese work in Manila continued vigorously. The school connected with St. Stephen's Mission flourished in spite of its almost impossible physical equipment. Bishop Mosher very properly urged aid from the Church in the United States in providing a new school plant on land already secured.

St. Luke's Hospital continued to minister to a wide clientele, with a minimum of aid from this country. For the second time, the hospital took first place among all the hospitals in Manila for thoroughness of work and administration. Year after year, a number of the students in the nurses' training school ask for baptism or confirmation or both. St. Luke's Church, which also serves as the hospital chapel, ministered to the Filipino population in a crowded section of the city.

In the south, St. Francis' Mission, centering at Upi among the Tirurai people of southern Mindanao, went forward vigorously. The Moro School, whose closing was threatened in 1934 because of lack of staff, was saved and has a bright future. The importance of the Church's educational work among the Moros of the south and the Igorots of the north steadily increased. Insular government appropriations for schools under Filipino control were reduced in order that the money might be transferred to the development of what was felt to be necessary military preparation in the form of an army of 500,000, against the day when all ties between the Philippines and the United States are cut. The commonwealth of the Philippines was inaugurated in November, 1935, as a step toward complete independence and the establishment of the Republic ten years hence.

Reduced appropriations compelled the abandonment in 1935 of the House of the Holy Child in Manila, a home for neglected girls. This work was described by Bishop Mosher as the only out and out charity of the Church in Manila.

The resignation in November, 1935, of the Rt. Rev. John McKim, D.D., as Bishop of North Tokyo, closed a notable era in the history of Christianity in Japan. He was known and loved from one end of Japan to the other. He had served for thirteen years as missionary priest and for nearly forty-three as Missionary Bishop. The Japan of 1880, when Bishop McKim began his ministry, was utterly different from the Japan of today. It was slowly emerging from 250 years of non-intercourse with the rest of the world. It was almost entirely an agricultural country. Its educational system was embryonic and inadequate. Bishop McKim lived to see Japan one of the four great powers of the world, the most literate nation in the world, and one of the leading industrial nations. During his lifetime, official antagonism to the Christian Faith, expressed in many ways, was changed into official appreciation and, not infrequently, official coöperation. Bishop McKim's death followed soon after his retirement, on April 4, 1936.

Industrial Japan feels the pinch of present economic world conditions. Many of the pastors of the Church in Japan, together with members of their congregations, were without necessities of life. Reduced appropriations from the Church in the United States required heavy curtailment of work in many instances and complete discontinuance in others. Candidates for the ministry could not be accepted, because funds to train them were insufficient. No new buildings were being erected. But even though such conditions were widespread, missionaries and Japanese leaders were seeking to deepen the faith of their people. This was a difficult task when even Japanese were tempted to fear that the Churches in the West were declining in their homelands, and were manifestly failing in the development of the work which they had established in Japan. Those who were not yet Christian in Japan frequently asserted that the Christian Faith was losing its hold upon American life and was failing to inspire Christian courage and adventure.

A significant evidence of the growth of the Church throughout Japan was the fact that the General Synod of the Nippon Sei Kokwai held its triennial meeting in 1935 in the city of Sendai, two hundred miles north of Tokyo. This was the first time a Synod had met north of Japan's capital. In 1937 the Sei Kokwai will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of its establishment as a national branch of the Anglican Communion. Church leaders have already begun work to strengthen the inner life of the Church in order that this semi-centennial may mark a great spiritual awakening.

At the time of his resignation, Bishop McKim, by a generous personal gift, laid the foundation for a fund to endow the episcopate in Japan. The diocesan synod has taken up the matter in earnest and plans, within the next twenty years, to accumulate a fund of 100,000 Yen as a diocesan endowment.

Hospital work both in Tokyo and in Osaka was well maintained in spite of the fact that appropriations from the Church in the United States were perilously near the vanishing point. With money already given and the approximately $200,000 it seeks, St. Luke's Hospital hopes to begin work not later than in 1937 upon the western and southern wings which will complete the hospital as planned at present. These wings will provide for out-patient work, ward accommodations, and more satisfactory quarters for administration, for public health work, and also for the widespread social service activities of the hospital.

Educational work in other great institutions like St. Paul's University and Middle School, St. Margaret's and St. Agnes' Middle School for Girls, or in the simple kindergartens, was exerting wide Christian influence, even though its maintenance was precarious under present financial conditions.

In his report from North Tokyo, Bishop Reifsnider called attention to the great need of financial reinforcement for St. Barnabas' Mission, Kusatsu. This is one of the outstanding missions of the entire Orient. It is unthinkable that it should be compelled greatly to reduce its ministry to a sadly stricken people.

The Church in the Japanese Dioceses of Tokyo and Osaka continued to grow steadily in the extent and quality of the work done. If any questions ever existed about the wisdom of the erection of these dioceses, they have been answered most satisfactorily.

The last five years have seen a remarkable change in the attitude of people and officials in China toward the work of Christian missions. In 1936, friendliness and appreciation were the outstanding characteristics of their attitude. General Chiang Kai Shek and a few leaders of China's national life met frequently on Sundays for Christian worship, study, and prayer at the General's official residence in Nanking. The Commissioner of Education of the Province of Hupeh, in Central China, an earnest Christian, was most considerate in his relations with the Church's schools, such as Boone, St. Hilda's, and the many primary schools scattered through the Diocese of Hankow. A Chinese organization, known as the "Christian Broadcasting Company," was regularly sending out information about Christian faith and progress.

On the other hand, the situation, especially in Central China, was not so encouraging because of the activities of bandit groups, particularly within the borders of the Diocese of Anking. Evangelistic work was often difficult because of these roving bands and the terror which they inspired among the people. Nevertheless, progress was made and the roll of baptized persons, communicants, and catechumens increased.

Greater progress could and would be made were it not for the greatly reduced staff in all three dioceses, Anking, Hankow, and Shanghai. Bishop Graves reported a net loss of 32 missionaries in the last ten years. Conditions require an increase of double that number. All three Bishops emphasize the need for recruits and plead for larger appropriations instead of the annual reductions that have occurred in recent years.

Every Church educational institution did well in spite of reduced support. In some instances alumni rallied to make up, in part, the support lost through the withdrawal of appropriations. St. John's University, Shanghai, and Central China College, Wuchang, showed the largest enrolment in their history. Middle schools and primary schools were generally overcrowded. Reduced appropriations necessitated the acceptance of more pupils than could properly be accommodated, with resultant danger in lowering of standards, both educational and Christian. None of the Church's schools in the Diocese of Shanghai were registered under the Educational Ministry of the Chinese Government. Most of the schools in the Dioceses of Anking and Hankow were so registered.

The Church's five hospitals rendered greater service to both in-patients and out-patients. Plans for the erection of a general hospital in Shanghai, to replace St. Elizabeth's for women, and St. Luke's for men, unfortunately were held up by the failure of American banks in which money for the carrying out of the new plan was on deposit. This failure was disastrous, not only in Shanghai, but throughout Central China and among all communions. Scores of missionaries had personal accounts with the institutions and many missionary enterprises had entrusted money that was being accumulated for current expenses as well as for building and endowment purposes, to the safekeeping of this American group. The losses were heavy and disappointment and suffering widespread.

The vision and steadfast support of a few generous friends enabled the Church's young mission of help to India to continue its work during 1936. The National Council was still unable to make any appropriation and therefore the mission had no assured income. This condition should be remedied as soon as possible. No important work of this grade, with such great possibilities, can be carried on without guaranteed income, even though such income may not meet all the necessary costs.

Bishop Azariah and the Rev. and Mrs. George Van B. Shriver worked on in faith and were doing their best to meet widening opportunities. Much of the work of the Diocese of Dornakal is among the outcaste people of India. These may be described as the largest single block of unfortunates in the world. Their social and personal disabilities are due to the teaching of Hinduism and the attitude of those who follow that faith. Mohammedan leaders in India are endeavoring to win the leaders of these unfortunates by promising them a place of security and dignity within the Mohammedan ranks. Mohammedanism is free of caste and has no fear of the supposed pollutions incurred by even passing an outcaste on the street. In view of this Mohammedan effort, our work in Dornakal takes on a new and vital significance. The question facing the Church in India today is whether it has sufficient faith and resources in life and money to extend and deepen its work on behalf of the millions of untouchables. If it fails, the outlook is that Mohammedanism will win them.

Honolulu: The importance of the Hawaiian Islands as part of the territory of the United States increases yearly. Inevitable and proper demands upon the Church increase as new opportunities for useful service appear. In 1936 people of many racial groups were under the care of the Church. Nowhere else in a similar area did this Church minister to so many different peoples. Iolani School for boys and St. Andrew's Priory School for girls were setting high standards for, and giving practical training to, young life—Hawaiian, Chinese, Caucasian, and others. Church Army evangelists, serving as missionaries on Bishop Littell's staff, were doing fine work among the laborers on the sugar plantations as well as among more privileged groups throughout the Islands.

The Church people of Honolulu have begun a fund for the endowment of the episcopate which in 1936 amounted to $10,000. They were giving generously for the support of their churches and institutions and, of course, continued the long established practice of giving the full amount of their missionary quota. Contributions and gifts by the local people were more than double the amount of the present appropriations for Honolulu.

Alaska: Late in 1935 the Bishop of Alaska, the Rt. Rev. P. T. Rowe, D.D., observed the fortieth anniversary of his consecration. During these years, Bishop Rowe has traversed Alaska's vast area, as St. Paul traveled over the Mediterranean region for the sake of the Crucified. To the delight of many New York friends, Bishop Rowe was able to commemorate the fortieth anniversary of his consecration in the Diocese of New York. Early in the morning of the actual day, St. Andrew's Day, November 30, 1935, Bishop Rowe celebrated the Holy Communion in St. George's Church, where his consecration had taken place.

During 1936 the Church's work in Alaska went on, but only at the cost of great strain and anxiety for Bishops Rowe and Bentley, and through sacrifices to the danger point on the part of members of the mission staff. The reality of this danger was evidenced by the breakdown in September, 1935, of Dr. Grafton Burke of the Hudson Stuck Memorial Hospital, Fort Yukon. It was the direct result of overwork and anxiety, inevitable from his efforts to maintain the hospital with the greatly reduced appropriation.

But Fort Yukon was not the only station that has suffered in this way. The Anvik School was still closed. Every other station was cut. In spite of all difficulties, the staff maintained its courage and its morale and looked to the time when larger support will make possible more widespread and effective work.

A number of stations continued without resident clergy. The grouping of missions such as is possible under ordinary conditions in almost any district in continental United States, is impossible in Alaska because of distances, limited means of transportation, and the general high cost of travel, both in time and money. Nevertheless, the members of the staff did their best to minister to the Indian people scattered through Alaska's vast interior and to the white settlers both in the interior and on the coast.

In the far Northwest, the Ven. F. W. Goodman not only held the fort at Point Hope, but was extending the influence of the mission as widely as time and limited means would permit. He was training Eskimo catechists to become evangelists to their own people. As a result of a number of years of labor and experience he prepared a book containing addresses on the ministry of Jesus for every day throughout the Church year, from Advent to Advent.

Personnel: The foregoing report indicates the great extent to which every field during 1935-36 was handicapped by lack of workers. Only thirteen missionaries were appointed; all to fill existing vacancies. Many other vacant posts were still unfilled.

The number of missionaries in the extra-continental, foreign, and Latin American fields supported in whole or in part by appropriations from the National Council for the year 1935 was:

American Missionaries abroad.. 410
Native Staff abroad1,425

This total of 1,835 workers compares with 2,619 actively at work in 1926—one indication of the havoc wrought by reduced giving in recent years. Neither the 1926 nor the 1935 numbers include the wives of ordained and lay missionaries, though many of them give volunteer service of inestimable value.

National Council—Department of Publicity

Major activities for this department during 1936 included publicity for the official acts of the Presiding Bishop, for meetings of the National Council, the Episcopal Social Work Conference, consecrations of Bishops, meeting of the House of Bishops in Chicago, Lenten Offering and Good Friday Offering, American tour of the Archbishop of York which ended January 10, the annual fall campaign for the Church's program, advance material for the 1937 General Convention, active coöperation through every step of the Missionary Crisis effort, and operation of the Episcopal Church of the Air.

The Spirit of Missions started its second century of service to the Church with indications of recovering advertising patronage and improving circulation. Special numbers were the Lenten Offering number in February and the United Thank Offering number in September. A notable series of articles on the coöperating agencies ran through most of the year, and a similarly important series of articles told of the Church's work in Liberia.

News Services: News was sent regularly to the religious and secular press. This included material on all the major activities of the Church, advance material about missionary speakers, and news of many other events of nationwide significance and importance. The "News Notes" continued to increase in popularity.

Radio: The season of the Episcopal Church of the Air, which starts in September of each year, has been outstanding in the current period. The time given by the Columbia Broadcasting System was increased from seven to eight broadcasts, and four of these were offered to the Forward Movement, which sent out a series of fine addresses through a wide network. The programs were commended throughout the country.

Missionary Information Service: Acting upon the thesis that "Our people will support missions when they know about missions," the Department developed an information service for use through the Church, the success of which is already assured. Available for general distribution and use, this service includes a partly printed parish paper composed of general Church news and information; a series of missionary maps; a syllabi on the Church's program containing mimeographed outlines for six short addresses; a visual service embodying an entirely new application of the stereopticon lecture; missionary leaflets; and loaning of cuts for illustrating Church papers.

National Council—Department of Christian Social Service

Throwing into bold relief many of the problems of social service, events of far-reaching significance have taken place both at home and abroad during the past twelve months. In such a period the Church has been called upon to make its social witness. In addition to its normal activities, the diocesan departments of social service have requested counsel and coöperation from the National Department on matters of standards and organization in local work. It has been provided as generously as the facilities of the staff would permit.

On March 9, 1936, the resignation of the executive secretary took effect. The Rev. C. Rankin Barnes, who served in this capacity since April 15, 1931, has brought to the Department a wide knowledge of institutional and social work.

Rural Work: While the rural work of the Church has been officially transferred to the Department of Domestic Missions, it continues under the supervision of this Department until an assistant secretary is appointed in the former. Two of its projects were promoted this year. The clergy received appropriate circulars with suggestions for the observance of Rogation Sunday as the Church's own season, and Mr. Barnes, before he resigned, secured the consent of the Ven. H. W. Foreman, of Erie, to serve as Chaplain and Leader of the Fifteenth National Episcopal Conference on Rural Church Work. This was held in conjunction with the Rural Leadership School of the University of Wisconsin Agricultural College and was attended by 32 clergy and 10 women leaders from the rural districts of the Church.

Industry: Awakened interest in questions of social security and the general problem of economic reform was reflected in a widespread demand for the services of the Consultant on Industrial Relations in diocesan conventions, parish meetings, interdenominational conferences, and summer schools.

Following the authorization of the National Council to continue the holding of conferences on the Church and Social Reconstruction, the Consultant organized two regional conferences on Social Security in coöperation with the Departments of Social Service in the Dioceses of Massachusetts and Los Angeles. These Conferences were held in Boston and Los Angeles. The meetings are proving their value in stimulating continuous attention on the part of Churchmen in new social service trends.

At the request of Bishop Philip M. Rhineland, D.D., warden of the College of Preachers at Washington, the Consultant conducted a Laymen's Conference on the question "What Social Organization Does Christ Demand?" at the College.

A one-day conference for the clergy on the question of Social Security was also set up by the Committee on Social Service in St. Louis in coöperation with the Department of Christian Social Service.

The Labor Sunday Message of the Federal Council of Churches was distributed to all the clergy of the Church.

Projects: The following specific projects were promoted during the year:

1. SOCIAL SERVICE SUNDAY: The Third Sunday After the Epiphany, January 26, was observed as Social Service Sunday in accordance with the practice begun in 1926. Corporate Communion for social workers and special sermons on social service marked the day throughout the Church.

2. EPISCOPAL SOCIAL WORK CONFERENCE: The Sixteenth Episcopal Social Work Conference, held in Atlantic City, N. J., marked an important milestone in our annual meetings. During the sessions of the National Conference of Social Work the program which had been completed by the Rev. C. Rankin Barnes before his resignation was carried out under the direction of the Consultant on Industrial Relations. The papers proved of such significant value that they have been printed in book form for the first time since 1928. Attendance at the Conference was large.

3. THE CINCINNATI SUMMER SCHOOL: Because of the reduction in the Department's budget it was not possible to continue the usual appropriation to this important project. The National Council, however, reverted to Dr. Keller the monies paid in for the deficit of 1936 and designated for the support of the School. There were 22 men enrolled from six Church seminaries and from Meadville and Harvard Divinity Schools.

4. SUMMER CONFERENCES: The Department was represented by the Consultant on Industrial Relations at only one conference, the Summer School in Religion, held at St. Margaret's House, Berkeley, Calif. The topic, "Essential Elements in a Christian Social Order," was discussed.

5. CHURCH SOCIAL INSTITUTIONS: In spite of the Department's truncated staff and budget, which has consistently hampered the extension of service in the field, the executive secretary, prior to his resignation, made an inspection of nine of the social institutions of the Church in response to requests from diocesan authorities. A special survey of the six diocesan social service institutions in the Diocese of Chicago was made by the executive secretary at the request of the Bishop of Chicago, and constructive efforts are already being made to improve the institutional standards in accordance with the recommendations offered.

6. CHURCHMEN IN SOCIAL WORK: The Department continues its effort to keep up to date its list of Churchmen professionally engaged in social work and in the teaching of sociology.

7. LITERATURE: Pamphlets produced during the year included:

Episcopal Social Work

Episcopal Church Homes for the Aged

Christ's Call to Service

Rogation Sunday: Its Rural-Urban Implications

Practical Standards for Diocesan Social Service Departments

Program for Sixteenth Episcopal Social Work Conference

Program for Fifteenth National Episcopal Conference on Rural Church Work

At the meeting of the National Council in September, 1936, the Rev. Almon R. Pepper, executive secretary of the Church Mission of Help, was elected executive secretary of the Department of Christian Social Service, subject to the consent of the C. M. H. that he should hold both offices concurrently.

National Council—Field Department

For much of the past year the Department has been working without a head and with a greatly reduced force. The Rev. B. H. Reinheimer, executive secretary of the Department since March 15, 1931, was elected Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese of Rochester and his resignation took effect upon his consecration early in 1936.

The Rev. Eric M. Tasman, corresponding secretary, resigned on July 1, 1936, to take up parish work.

The future status of the Department and its relationship to the several dioceses was accorded a prominent place at the meeting of the House of Bishops at Houston, Tex., in October, 1935.

At the December, 1935 meeting of the National Council, the executive secretary presented a plan and program for an expansion of field work. The Council gave its approval to the following as to the scope of the work of the Department: primarily to secure annually a mobilization of the membership of the Church in which the knowledge of the Church's mission will issue in subscriptions for its support—the Annual Every Member Canvass; secondarily, to put forth continuous effort to build up popular information about the Church's work; to sponsor measures which will strengthen the missionary convictions and consecration of the unenlisted mass of the Church's members; to be responsible for the training of local leaders for the diocese and parish; to study constantly and participate in the adjustment and remodeling of the normal organization of the province, the diocese, and the parish in order to promote a greater fulfillment of their respective responsibilities; and to cultivate throughout the Church understanding and co-operation with the leadership of the National Council.

The tentative appropriation for the work of the Department was increased and set at $45,798 if the Emergency Schedule of 1935 was readopted, and at $65,594 if the full General Convention Budget of $2,700,000 was inaugurated. Finally, the Council reaffirmed its earlier action authorizing the cultivation of direct individual gifts and referred the matter to the Presiding Bishop and President to submit a definite plan at the February (1936) meeting. Also, an item of $10,000 for this enterprise was included in both tentative appropriations.

Speaker's Bureau: At no time during the year has the Bureau been able to meet the demand for missionary speakers. One explanation is that there are always fewer missionaries at home during the twelve months following a meeting of General Convention. The other explanation is that failure to make replacements in the fields as a result of retrenchments results in holding the missionaries at their posts and inevitably reduces the number which can return at any one time.

National Council—Department of Religious Education

The Department recognizes five areas in which it must function: Children's Education, Young People's Work, College Work, Adult Education, and Missionary Education. At present this work is done by six officers and five stenographers, performing their work partly by correspondence and the use of printed matter, and partly by conference with workers in the field. Much of our work is of a general type and thus very often overlaps. For example, during 1936 a thorough study was made of the activities of the various diocesan departments of religious education, and then, on the basis of this study, a Guide was compiled for officers of such departments showing what the functions of the diocesan department are.

Officers of the National Department serve as leaders and instructors in many conferences. The summer months are devoted almost entirely to this work. In 1936 our officers served in fifteen of the Church's summer conferences. Throughout the year assistance at conferences and institutes was given by personal attendance in 70 out of the 89 dioceses and districts of the country.

Every officer is keenly conscious of the importance of the seminaries as places where the future educators of the Church are being trained. When called on for advice by the Philadelphia Divinity School they shared in the preparation of a report which was accepted by the authorities of the school and made the program of that school for the future. They also undertook the experiment of teaching the Seminary course in religious education during the first semester of the 1935-36 year. This experience not only served the School but also enabled the Department to understand better the problems of the seminaries in respect to this subject.

A very urgent invitation was received from the Dean of Nashotah House requesting the officers of this Department to teach the course in religious education at that seminary. It was found impossible to accede to this request because of the great distance from New York.

During 1936, visits of guidance and assistance have been made by officers to St. Faith's House in New York, the Church Training House in Philadelphia, St. Margaret's House in Berkeley, Calif., and the Episcopal Seminar in Religious Education at Columbia University.

A number of publications of various sorts have been issued during the year:

The Bulletin—A monthly mimeographed publication of fifteen pages or over. It aims to inform the members of the diocesan departments of religious education and other educational leaders on interesting events in the educational field.

The Family and the Church—A quarterly mimeographed bulletin of about twelve pages, in which the field of parent education is considered.

The Broadcast—A bi-monthly publication, also mimeographed. Addressed to Young People's groups, it seeks to inform the young people of the Church on methods of work which are being used successfully and also seeks to give help in developing program materials in the local parish.

The Diocesan Department of Religious Education in Outline—Prepared for members of diocesan departments in order that they may understand clearly what are the functions of their departments.

The Children in Your Parish—An analysis showing the specific needs of children which should be met by the parish.

The Young People and the Church—A similar outline dealing with the problems of young people.

The Birthday Thank Offering in Our Church Schools—Full instructions regarding the objective of the Birthday Thank Offering for this Triennium, with guidance for parish activities in connection therewith.

A Children's Ward in a Chinese Hospital—A description of the children's ward in the Shanghai hospital to which the Birthday Thank Offering for this Triennium is to be given.

Guide Lines in Church School Work—A statement of the principles and policies which are controlling the direction of the Department's work.

Lenten Offering Material for 1936—Two series of stories entitled, "Christian Heroes of Many Nations," and a service of worship entitled "Publish Glad Tidings."

Program of the Divinity School of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Philadelphia—The Department had a major share in the preparation of this important report and program.

Youth and Education—(Published by the Forward Movement)—In this the Department cooperated with the Forward Movement Commission in planning that the period from Epiphany to Ash Wednesday, 1936, should be devoted to the problems of education for youth. It is a 25-page booklet and includes a program of activities for the parish for seven weeks and extended outlines for meetings of teachers and leaders during this time.

Your Parish and its Young People—(Published by the Forward Movement)—A plan for a parish to address itself to the problems of its young people during the six weeks specified by the Forward Movement.

CHILDREN'S EDUCATION: The Department acts as consultant with provincial and diocesan departments of religious education and also with the parish and individuals. It handles correspondence on topics such as: advice on problems of curriculum sought by teachers, leaders, parishes, and diocesan departments; advice on reading materials for children, young people, and adults; help in preparing addresses and courses on topics relating to religious education; advice regarding leadership education, including the issuance of credits in the N. A. L. A.; advice on and evaluation of plans and material prepared in the field.

Field Work: One of the officers of the Department, Miss Mable Lee Cooper, spends most of her time in field work. Her splendid contributions through her addresses to teachers and consultations with them are well known. Three other officers of the Department—Dr. McGregor, Dr. Wedel, and Miss Fischer—spend a large part of their time in the field. Through these constant contacts with clergy and teachers we try to keep clearly in mind the actual problems which are faced by the workers of the Church.

Curriculum Problems: The thorny question of curriculum for children occupies the attention of the officers of this Department continuously. Criticisms of the present available curricula are universal. We are not prepared to offer to the Church any standard or ideal curriculum, but we have taken up the task of a complete revision of all the pupil's materials in the Christian Nurture Series. We have been fortunate in that the Department of Religious Education of the Diocese of Chicago has worked out a very valuable scheme of "Enterprises," which are used in connection with this series. Some of the revised courses are available for use in our Church schools for the autumn of 1936. This revision is not final. While these new materials will make the Series much more acceptable and usable for the next three or four years, we intend to address ourselves during that time to the building up of a totally new curriculum which is greatly needed.

MISSIONARY EDUCATION: The Department is seriously handicapped in its work of missionary education since the Council felt compelled to vacate this office at the beginning of 1935. We have, however, been able to carry on some activities in this branch of our work.

ADULT EDUCATION: In this field also we work under difficulties in that we have no officer especially assigned to this work. Many requests for advice regarding adult classes and activities have been received, all of which receive our best advice. A large loan collection of books and pamphlet material dealing with parent education is kept in circulation. Through the N. A. L. A., leadership training is being given to many adults. Our work among the clergy, teachers, and leaders is really a work of adult education. Among these workers we are trying to give leadership in what may be called the philosophy of religious education—that is, a better understanding of the basic aims and methods of the whole task of religious education, and there is no part of our work either through printed matter or through the spoken word which seems to be more generally appreciated.

COLLEGE WORK: The work among college students is one of the most important activities of this Department. This work is under the direction of the Rev. Dr. Theodore O. Wedel, who in the past two years has come to be recognized as one of our national leaders. It is impossible to obtain accurate figures as to the number of Episcopal students in the colleges and universities of America, but the Church owes a special service to these young men and women in this very critical position. The colleges in America form the intellectual firing-line of the work of the Church. Special abilities on the part of the clergy are needed as they deal with these young men and women who have special needs. The times cry for a vigorous presentation of the Christian apologetic in the face of non-Christian influences and forms of thought which affect the student group so intensely and particularly.

There are some four hundred of our clergy who are, or should be, in immediate contact with student groups. These men need help and guidance in their very difficult task. The Department of Religious Education, functioning through the Secretary for College Work, is endeavoring to meet the needs of these clergy and students.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK: This work proceeds under the direction of Miss Dorothy May Fischer. Like the other work of this Department it is done through correspondence, circular printed and mimeographed materials, and conferences in the office and in the field.

A heavy correspondence is carried on with diocesan and parish leaders. The general organization of young people's work throughout the Church is not at all strong. Satisfactory main lines of activity have not been developed as yet and the result is that our many societies for young people are constantly in need of advice and help. They turn to us for counsel on their problems of finding proper material for their programs and for suggestions as to literature. They also seek guidance in the best methods of parish and diocesan organization, and in local and regional conferences of young people.

National Council—Woman's Auxiliary

These are not easy years for the Woman's Auxiliary as they are not for many others, but it is believed that the Auxiliary has deepened in service as well as broadened in it. The Educational Secretary, Miss Marston, has spent nine months in visiting the mission fields of India, Philippines, China, and Japan and such visits contribute to that deeper interest which the Church at home seeks to have with the Church overseas. During Miss Marston's absence Miss Leila Anderson, one of the field secretaries, was Acting Educational Secretary, and did much for the development of the Auxiliary. To its great regret she resigned in August but the Auxiliary is assured of her continued interest while she carries on in student work under the Y. W. C. A.

The Regional Conferences of diocesan leaders and headquarters staff have been a means of strengthening the work

WHEREAS the Bishop of Eau Claire has had the impression that the House of Bishops meeting in Houston had left to him the designation of the official status of Dr. John William Torok;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the House of Bishops declares its judgment as follows:

First that no individual bishop has power to give status as a Bishop in or of this Church to any one claiming to be a Bishop;

Second that therefore, the aforesaid John William Torok has no status whatever as a Bishop in or of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, and may not perform any of the functions or duties of the Episcopal office, nor can he be listed or recorded as a Bishop in or of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

RESOLVED: That this action of the House of Bishops is in no way to be interpreted as casting any aspersions upon the character of Dr. John William Torok, nor has it passed upon the validity of his Orders, neither of which questions have been passed upon by this House.

RESOLVED: That the House of Bishops records its complete confidence in the integrity and sincerity of the Bishop of Eau Claire together with its admiration for his thorough study and patient continuance in dealing with a difficult problem of ecclesiastical relations committed to him.

World Conferences, 1937

The Episcopal Church will officially participate in two interdenominational World Conferences in 1937—that on Life and Work at Oxford, England, July 12th to 26th, and that on Faith and Order at Edinburgh, Scotland, August 3d to 18th.

The subject of the Oxford Conference on Life and Work will be Church, State, and Society. Virtually all Christian communions except the Roman Catholic will participate in the conference, which will be under the chairmanship of the Archbishop of Canterbury. Of the 400 delegates, 80 will go from the United States. These are officially appointed representatives of the several religious bodies, each of which is also authorized to designate an equal number of non-voting associates. In addition 100 experts in various lines, including 32 from America, will be co-opted, and there will be a Youth Group from many lands. The five main themes for the conference, as approved by the biennial meeting of the Universal Christian Council at Chamby, Switzerland, August 20-25, 1936, are:

- (1) The Church and the Community.
- (2) The Church and the State.
- (3) The Church, Society, and the State in relation to economic order.
- (4) The Church, Society, and the State in relation to education.
- (5) The Universal Church and a World of Nations.

The delegates who will represent the Episcopal Church at the Oxford Conference listed on page 66.

The subject of the Edinburgh Conference on Faith and Order will be Christian unity. At this conference also most of the Christian communions, Orthodox, Protestant, and Free Catholic, will be represented by official delegations, under the chairmanship of the Archbishop of York. Deliberations will center around the reports of four commissions dealing with the following subjects:

- (1) The Grace of Our Lord Jesus Christ.
- (2) The Church of Christ and the Word of God.
- (3) The Church of Christ: Ministry and Sacraments.
- (4) The Church's Unity in Life and Worship.

Preparations for the Second World Conference, to be held at Edinburgh, August 3-18, 1937, were practically completed at the meeting of the Continuation Committee last summer. The Committee, which met at Clarens near Montreux, Switzerland, heard reports from the three theological commissions, arranged details of the schedule of meetings and provided for the devotional periods. The Conference will meet in the Assembly Hall of the Church of Scotland, and at least a portion of the five hundred delegates will live at the Student Hostels nearby.

The program, and other literature preliminary to the Edinburgh Conference, may be had free on application to the American Secretary, the Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, 111 Fifth Ave., New York City.

The Episcopal Church coöperates with the movement through its Commission on Faith and Order, a list of whose members will be found on page 64. Ten representatives have been appointed to attend the Edinburgh Conference. The list of these is to be found on the same page.

Between the Oxford and Edinburgh Conferences next summer it is planned to hold a great public service in St. Paul's Cathedral, London.

"Church Life Insurance Corporation"

The Church Life Insurance Corporation was formed in 1922 by the Trustees of the Church Pension Fund to offer life insurance and guaranteed life annuities at net rates to the clergy and their families and the active lay workers and their families of the Protestant Episcopal Church. It employs no agents. It has very low administrative cost. It is therefore able to offer insurance at the rates which the United States Government offered to the soldiers and sailors in the Great War for their converted war risk insurance. In addition, a practice has been followed since 1924 of making annual refunds to the insured. The premium rates are the net premiums based on the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and a half per cent interest. The insured has thirty-one days as a period of grace for the payment of any premium after the first. No interest charge is made for this period of grace and the policy remains in full force.

"Church Properties Fire Insurance Corporation, The"

The Church Properties Fire Insurance Corporation was incorporated under the laws of the State of New York in 1929 and is under the supervision of the Insurance Department of the State of New York to whom it renders statements covering all business transacted throughout the United States.

The Corporation's charter limits it to the insurance against fire, tornado and earthquake of property belonging to, or closely affiliated with, the Protestant Episcopal Church and therefore the Corporation entertains proposals for insurance of churches, missions, parish houses, rectories and their contents, and on all religious institutions in the Church, including colleges, seminaries, and schools, and all house property belonging to Dioceses or parishes or charitable institutions (together with their contents if belonging to the owners of these buildings). It also insures the furniture of the clergy, but not house property personally belonging to them unless used as a rectory. The Corporation is a stock company and is not a mutual company, and those who insure with it are under no liability for assessments whatsoever. Up to the end of September, 1936, approximately twenty-eight hundred Episcopal churches had insured with the Corporation, besides numerous colleges, institutions, etc. Practically all of these clients have taken advantage of the installment plan of paying fire insurance premiums. This plan dispenses with the necessity of a church paying heavy advance premiums for three and five year policies and has a stabilizing effect upon the fire insurance budget of an Episcopal church or institution. The Corporation has also reduced rates in all but two states. In September, 1936, it had over $75,000,000 of insurance in force. The Corporation is not operated for private profit. It is closely affiliated with the Church Pension Fund.

Girls' Friendly Society of the United States of America (1877)

Foundress Miss E. M. Edson.

The Girls' Friendly Society is an organization for all girls, sponsored by the Episcopal Church. Girls of any denomination—or none—are welcome, but the leaders must be communicants of the Church. Founded sixty years ago, it now has a membership of 29,000 with 900 branches in the United States, Japan, China, the Philippine Islands, Puerto Rico, and Panama. It offers opportunities for the development of character and for friendship through a flexible program, based on the interests and needs of girls today. It promotes balanced programs of worship, study, recreation, social service and service to the Church in the parish and in the mission field. An interest in and understanding of the issues of the world today as they affect young people are emphasized.

Knights of Saints John

A fraternal order for young men and older boys. Appeals to hobbies, sportsmanship, outdoor and indoor activities; links up the scared needs of the Church to their studies in school, their ambitions; makes well informed and loyal Churchmen; has three initiations which may be won by all, but some 70 advanced degrees which inspire young men to deeds of Knighthood of the modern day in very definite churchly achievements. Ritual based solely on Church doctrine and Bible truth, grafts and wins young men to the Church through the competitive and religious spirit; keeps boys in the later teen age, claimed by high school, college frats and fraternal orders, diligent to the confirmation vows; for younger boys, 12 years and over, there is a junior order called the "Squires". There is nothing in the field of boys' work so inexpensive, of greater simplicity and more appeal or with greater degree of permanence in parishes where it is started.

Among the National Advisory Council are the Bishops of 30 important dioceses.

Officers: Grand Commander, Rev. F. M. Wetherill, S.T.D., 3012 W. Coulter St., Philadelphia, Pa.; Chief of Staff, John H. Pazarian, 2327 W. Huntingdon St., Philadelphia, Pa.; Lieutenant Commander, Richard T. Viguers, Central China College, Wuchang, China; Chaplain General, Very Rev. Charles S. Lewis, S.T.D., Albany, N. Y.; Sec. and Treas., G. Willard Brown, 2614 N. 9th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Manual ($1.00), free literature and detailed information may be obtained from headquarters by addressing the Grand Commander. Our local Field Secretaries will be glad to help you organize your young men to do useful things for the Parish, show you how to conduct initiations, contests, give the grips, signs and secret words of a real frat, which 30 years of experience has shown adds to the devotional life of young men.

Knights of the Order of S. Martin

Founded in Trinity Parish, Tulsa, Oklahoma, April, 1928, for the cultivation of the spiritual life, the propagation and defense of the Faith, the promotion of Christian fellowship, and the assistance of the clergy and other church organizations. There are three degrees. The secret rituals of the Order convey much valuable Church teaching in symbol and appeal to the innate love of ritual for which many men seek expression in secret Orders outside of the Church. Officers of the Inner Council: Abbot, Rev. E. H. Eckel, Jr., Trinity Church, Tulsa, Okla.; Provost, Ernest N. Anderson, 1138 S. Zunis Ave., Tulsa, Okla.; Chancellor, Dr. J. F. Daly, Pawhuska, Okla.;

Sec., Wm. F. Cutting, Tulsa, Okla.; Treas., W. J. Dickinson, 2527 E. 7th St., Tulsa, Okla. For further information, write the secretary.

Laymen's League of the Episcopal Church

A national fellowship of laymen organized in 1932 under the authorization of General Convention. A national organization has been formed to foster the movement and assist interested bishops and clergy in launching the league in parishes and dioceses. The constitutions and by-laws provide for the organization of the league first in parishes where the sentiment favorable to such a lay movement already exists, and later in dioceses where at least five parish leagues shall have been formed. (There are eighty-nine parish, and five diocesan organizations.)

Objects: (1) To promote among laymen a more definite and intelligent understanding of the Church's life, history, and program; (2) To enlist every layman in some form of active service for the Church; (3) To keep constantly before all its members their duty and obligation: (a) to cooperate with the Presiding Bishop and the National Council in promotion of the Church's general program; (b) to cooperate with the bishop, clergy, and diocesan authorities in promoting the Church's work in the diocese; and (c) to cooperate with the clergy and parochial organizations in developing and stimulating Church work in the parish.

Membership: Every baptized man 18 years of age or older, who is in sympathy with the general objectives of the organization and is willing, aside from other Church work, to pledge at least one full day's attendance—so far as this can be controlled—upon an annual laymen's conference or retreat, shall be eligible for membership. The dues of the members shall be not less than $1 per annum, and the raising of money is not one of the objectives of the league. Further information and copies of the pamphlet giving full information regarding the aims and purposes, as well as suggested by-laws, may be obtained from the president or the secretary of the league.

National Committee of Diocesan Altar Guilds

The work of the Committee is—1. To encourage the formation of Diocesan and Missionary District Altar Guilds. 2. To unite the Guilds for their mutual benefit and for the better fulfillment of their individual purposes. (No two of the existing Guilds are exactly alike because of the different conditions and circumstances in the dioceses in which they work.) 3. To deepen devotion and increase reverence in Altar Guild members by interpreting their work as direct personal service to God. 4. To maintain high standards for Altar Guilds by conferences and by the interchange of such improved methods of work and study as may be developed by the individual Guilds. 5. To arouse interest in providing more and better appointments for the Altar of Mission churches and institutions.

Pi Alpha is a Christian Greek Letter Fraternity for the youth of the Episcopal Church. It bands together the boys and young men of the Church into a brotherhood for the cultivation of fellowship, the upbuilding of Christian character and the promotion of Churchmanship. The ten characteristics of the Fraternity are: 1. A good Pi Alpha strives to be a Christian following the example of our Supreme Shepherd, Jesus Christ. 2. He seeks to make Christians through the medium of the church. 3. He attends Holy Communion Sundays or some other Church service if that is not possible. 4. He begins each day with prayer. 5. He is loyal to his Parish Priest. 6. He contributes regularly to the Church's welfare. 7. He is a conscientious member in any Church organization with which he is connected. 8. He co-operates with any organization or movement for the benefit of his Church. 9. He is a true brother at all times. 10. He never misses a fraternity meeting when it is possible to be there. The Fraternity has everything associated with a college fraternity such as Opening, Closing, Catechumen (Pledging), Initiation and Installation rituals, Charter and Membership Certificates, an insignia, shield, grip, pass-word, etc. The Fraternity tends to produce better Churchmen, servers, choristers, Church school members and teachers, and Young People Fellowship workers. Church Society for College Work

The purpose of The Church Society for College Work is to promote knowledge and acceptance of Christ's religion and in other ways to strengthen the work of the Protestant Episcopal Church in college and university centers; and to establish a Fund for this purpose.

Immediate Objectives: (1) To assist in the placement of clergymen, laymen, and women workers who will minister to students in college and university centers; and to increase the number of such workers in places which are undermanned. (2) To develop an adequate and detailed file of clergy interested in and qualified for college work. (3) To continue emphasizing the strategic importance of college work to the Church, by writing and speaking, by publishing pamphlets, etc. (4) To aid the movement for Christian conferences and retreats for college students. (5) To recruit for the ministry. (6) To gather together those committed to the cause of college work for prayer, inspiration, and planning. (7) To raise money for the support of the work. (8) To unite in intercession all those who care about the college work of the Church.

ORGANIZATIONS FOR EDUCATIONAL PURPOSES, CHURCH DEFENSE, AND PROPAGANDA

American Church Union

On Whitsunday, May 31st, 1936, The American Church Union came into existence, succeeding and taking over the activities of The Catholic Congress of the Episcopal Church (organized 1923) and adding thereto such other activities as should more effectively maintain the principles upon which the Congress was founded. The Church Union is composed of clergy and laity who desire that our branch of the Church realize in faith and practice its heritage.

The activities of the Congress will be continued thus maintaining the general Congress at intervals, conferences and institutes as occasion arises, and the continuous intercessory work of the Cycle of Prayer, the missionary activity of the Linked Altars, and occasional publications.

Membership, at present—Life $50.00; sustaining $10.00; Contributing $5.00; Annual $1.00; Junior $.50.

The Holding Committee will meet for the final adoption of Constitution and By-Laws in November, 1936, and the general election will be held before the first of the year.

ORGANIZATIONS FOR DEVOTIONAL PURPOSES

Company of the Love of Jesus, The

An Association for Intercessory Prayer, founded in 1850, by Dr. Pusey and Mother Lydia (Selon) of the Society of the Most Holy Trinity, to link together, in continuous prayer for conversion of sinners and the succour of the dying, men and women living in the world with the Sisters of the Society. In 1933 the American Branch of the Company was revived and a third object of intercession has been added: The Reunion of Christendom. Companions living in the world are divided into two groups: a those who take a period of intercession of not less than fifteen minutes each day; b those who are unable to give more than five or ten minutes. A quarterly intercession leaflet is issued from Ascot Priory, England, the headquarters of the Association, but this is suggestive only, the sole requirement is that each Companion pray as earnestly as possible for the objects of the Association. There are no dues, but those who can afford it are asked to contribute not less than fifty cents a year toward the cost of printing and postage. Inquiries and applications for membership should be made to the secretary of the American Branch, the Rev. T. J. Williams, Room 210, 217 Broadway, New York City.

Confraternity of the Mystical Life

(Founded 1925.) Purposes: To promote the perception of God through mystical devotion, to inculcate the practice of the Presence and to advance the attainment, by every professing Christian, of the radiant Christ life. It seeks to awaken, and strengthen man's consciousness of the inner unity of God and man, and the perception that the divinity which was fully manifest in Jesus is gradually being unfolded in man until he shall come "unto a perfect man, unto the stature of the fulness of Christ." It stands for the idea that progress toward the Kingdom is measured by the ability to see the Infinite in the finite, the Absolute in the relative, the Perfect in the imperfect, the Universal in the particular, and the Eternal in the now. It strives to implant the idea that life is lived only in man's consciousness and that by steadfastly directing his consciousness toward the Beautiful and the Good, he is capable of eliminating evil and ugliness from his experience, as have the true mystics of all the ages.

The services of its Officers and Diocesan Directors are available for engagements as conference leaders, lecturers, and preachers. A series of studies "The Compleat Christian," sent by mail, consisting of monthly papers on personal religion and meditation, is published. The first study will be sent upon request. ORGANIZATIONS FOR CLERGY INCREASE, RELIEF, PENSION, AND INSURANCE

"Church Pension Fund, The"

Established by the General Convention, October 22, 1913; adopted by the Conventions of all of the Dioceses and Missionary Districts in 1915 and 1916; chartered by the Legislature of New York, April 3, 1914. Headquarters, 20 Exchange Place, New York City.

The General Convention designed The Church

Pension Fund to assure to all the active clergy support when they become aged or in the event of total and permanent disability, and support to their families in the event of their death. The pension benefits, provided pension assessments have been properly paid are: 1. At 68, upon retirement from active work, an annuity equal to 1½ per cent of the average salary multiplied by the years of service. Minimum $600. The minimum not promised if ordination took place at 40 or over, although in practice paid. 2. Upon permanent and total disability an annuity during its continuance of 40 per cent. of the average salary for the previous five years. Minimum $600. 3. To a widow, one-half of the age annuity to which the husband would have been entitled, calculating his annuity from the date of marriage only. Minimum $300. 4. To minor orphans, $100 up to age seven; $200 between ages seven and fourteen; $300 from age fourteen to majority during dependence.

The clergy ordained prior to March 1, 1917, and their families, can only receive the minimum pensions given above, and half of the minor orphans's benefits, until the pension assessments, in any individual case, have been paid sufficiently long after March 1, 1917, to entitle the beneficiary to a larger grant. In actual practice the Trustees of the Fund have been able to increase the scale of benefits substantially above the original promises but the continuation of this practice, being dependent upon the financial status of the Fund each year, cannot be guaranteed for the future.

"Clergymen's Mutual Insurance League"

(Incorporated 1869.) Pres., Rev. A. R. McKins-try, 315 E. Pecan St., San Antonio, Texas; Sec.-Treas., Rev. Alexander G. Cummins, Christ Church, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. The object is the mutual insurance of relief to families of deceased members. Any Clergyman of the Protestant Episcopal Church not over 45 years of age, in good health, and not to his knowledge seized of any diseases likely to prove fatal, may become a member. Admission fee, $2.00. Mortuary calls $2.00 each. All applications for membership must be made to the Treasurer. Over $450,000 has been paid to the widows and orphans of its deceased members. This insures a clergyman's family a benefit equal to twice as many dollars as there are members.

"Clergymen' Retiring Fund Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, The"

(Incorporated in New York, 1895; successor to the Clergymen's Retiring Fund Society, incorporated in New Jersey, 1874.) Pres., the Rt. Rev. Frederick G. Budlong, D.D.; Sec., Hon. J. Pardee, D.D.; Sec., Richard P. Kent. It affords annuities to all clergymen who have reached the age of 60 years, who have paid regularly $12 per year for at least five years preceding. The amount of annuity is dependent upon the years of membership, the amount of contributions by the Church at large, and the interest on the invested capital, which is now $376,835.48. The present number of annuitants is 234, and the total clerical membership is 303.

ORGANIZATIONS FOR PROMOTING CHURCH UNITY

"Christian Unity Foundation" (Inc. 1910)

A voluntary and unofficial organization, formed: To promote Christian Unity at home and throughout the world: To this end, to gather and disseminate accurate information relative to the faith and works of all Christian bodies: To set forth the great danger of our unhappy divisions and the waste of spiritual energy due thereto: To devise and suggest practical methods of cooperation, substituting comity for rivalry in the propagation of the common faith: To bring together all who are laboring in the same field, and this in the belief that full knowledge of one another will emphasize our actual membership in the one body of Christ and our common agreement in the essentials of faith. That, finally, by the operation of the Spirit of God, the various Christian bodies may be knit together in more evident unity in the essentials of faith and practice and in one organic life. Office, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York. Pres., Rev. Nehemiah Boynton, D.D.; Sec., Rev. Linley V. Gordon, 70 Fifth Ave., New York City; Treas., Origen S. Seymour, Litchfield, Conn.

Church Unity Octave Council

The Council is an association of Priests and laymen, under the presidency of the Rev. Spencer Jones, world-wide in scope, formed to promote the better observance of the Church Unity Octave, by members of the Anglican Communion, committed to the following proposition: "It is only by the reunion of all Christians into the one, visible Kingdom of Christ, symbolized by the Chair of S. Peter, the central see of Christendom at Rome, that the power of the Church can be directed, without the present waste and rivalry, to the conversion of the whole world, by the one true Faith, to Christ the King." Members are pledged to support the aims of the Council by daily prayer, by alms, by study, by influencing others, by forming friendly relationships with Christians of other Confessions, and especially by the devout observance of the Octave each year, from the Feast of S. Peter's Chair at Rome (January 18) to the Feast of the Conversion of S. Paul (January 25), making daily use of the official prayers and intentions. The American and Canadian Section is composed of forty-five Priests and fifteen laymen. The governing body is the Executive Committee, of which the four officers are ex-officio members. Complete information may be had by addressing: The Executive Secretary, The Church Unity Octave Council, 11th Floor, 90 Fifth Ave., New York City.

Confraternity of Unity

The Confraternity of Unity is composed of members of the Anglican Communion who believe that the See of Rome is the Center of Unity for all Churches. This Confraternity, therefore, seeks through corporate action, within the Anglican Communion, a basis of Reunion with the Holy See which will not be prejudicial to the facts of her Sacramental Life. Founded in the United States in 1927, with only four members, the Confraternity spread quickly to all parts of the Anglican world. It now has many hundreds of members in this country, in Great Britain and in the scattered Provinces of Anglicanism. The executive body is a Council, composed of sixteen Priests, one half of this number forming the American Section, one half the English Section of the Council. Membership in the Confraternity is open to Clerical and lay communicants of any Anglican Church who accept and sign the Credenda and discipline of the Confraternity. Members are under obligation to pray daily for the reunion of all Christendom, especially Anglicanism, with the Holy Apostolic See, and for the intentions of the Holy Father. Priest members are required to say Mass weekly for reunion. The Confraternity publishes Reunion a quarterly magazine. Complete information may be had by addressing: The Secretary, the Confraternity of Unity, 11th Floor, 90 Fifth Ave., New York City.

PIONEERING IN CHRISTIAN SOCIAL ACTION

By Spencer Miller, Jr.

Consultant on Industrial Relations, National Council

One of the truly significant experiments in the field of Christian social action which have been conducted by one of the institutions of our Church in recent years was the cooperative project carried on between the summer school of religion and the western summer school for workers during July and August of 1936. St. Margaret's House, with its beautiful grounds, adjoining the campus of the University of California, was the sponsor of the former school and the host to the latter.

Here leaders of labor and rank and file members worked and ate together with religious leaders for a period of four weeks, sharing the common life and discussing problems of labor and economics not only from the disciplines of the social sciences but from the viewpoint of a Christian sociology.

The results were as striking as they were unique. Workers with little conventional religious enthusiasm came to see Christianity as the dynamic of the new social order; religious leaders came to view the struggle of labor as one with which any program of Christian social action would have to be vitally concerned. St. Margaret's House became a place, in a word, where the cause of the Carpenter and the cause of labor were brought much closer together—where indeed faith and works were resolved into a single affirmation.

Nor was this cooperative venture without its opportunity to demonstrate the spirit of sacrifice which is a vital part of the Christian experience as it is of the tradition of labor. The willing donation of blood by many of the students of all faiths and no faiths for transfusions to aid one of the teachers who was taken gravely ill after the school began, was as unconscious as it was an authentic expression of one of the deepest realities of this fellowship of the Church and labor.

Now that St. Margaret's House has blazed the way it is to be hoped that other institutions of our Church may find equally creative ways of serving the labor community in its quest to understand the forces both economic and spiritual which must shape the society of the future.

THOUGHT

Is Christ adequate? It depends on who Christ is. If He is merely a philosopher? No—we need more than a teacher. If He is only a reformer? No—we must have more than a reformation. It is not principles alone that we need, but power. If Christ is but the best attempt in the first century to climb up to God, then we shall need to go higher than Christ in the 20th century. But if in Christ God touched earth with divine redemption, then

He is adequate. If in our Savior the eternal entered into the temporal to change things with God's own power, then Christ is adequate not only for the 20th century, but for every century Jesus Christ is adequate today. He remains unchanged in our changing world. Christ is always sufficient for life; and as each generation approaches Him for the needs of its day, new sources of adequacy are continually discovered in him.

Guild of S. Barnabas for Nurses

Object: A national organization designed to inspire and develop the spiritual aspect of a nurse's life and work. It assists nurses in realizing the dignity of their calling and in maintaining a high standard of Christian life and work in connection therewith. It provides for nurses the companionship of other nurses similarly minded, and contact with associate members. Membership and Purpose.—Active members include nurses who have graduated from a recognized school of nursing and student nurses in course of training at such school. Associate members include Church women, clergymen, and physicians who are interested in nurses and the spiritual aspect of their work. These two groups are brought together through the Guild, and together plan and develop their activities, which are divided into two types: religious and social. The scope of work varies from inspirational Church services for nurses, religious talks in hospitals, visiting committees for sick nurses, etc., to the larger fields of creating funds for scholarships, loans, holiday houses, and missionary activities. The social side of the Guild provides an atmosphere of friendliness and cheerfulness through such means as teas, suppers, bazaars, lectures, etc. The Guild as a whole supports a missionary nurse in Puerto Rico.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY

Westminster Abbey, the most celebrated church in the British Empire, is located in London on the site of an early Benedictine abbey. Its erection was begun in 1050 A.D. by Edward the Confessor, and it was consecrated in 1065. Henry III rebuilt it in the thirteenth century, in honor of Edward the Confessor who had been canonized in 1163. Chapels were added from time to time until 1735. The monastery was suppressed during the reign of Henry VIII, and Westminster was made a bishopric. It is built in Gothic style and is the burial place of thirteen of England's kings, and five queens in their own right, and the queens of many of the kings, besides other persons honored by the British nation, especially men of art and letters. A plain tablet on the floor of this building marks the resting place of David Livingstone. Nearly all of England's kings and queens have been crowned in Westminster Abbey.

Poor Clares of Reparation and Adoration

This Community of Sisters was founded in 1922 under the spiritual direction of the Order of St. Francis for the life and work of prayer. The Sisters follow the primitive Franciscan Rule which St. Clare herself wrote, for which reason they adopted the title "Poor Clares," with the qualifying phrase "of Reparation and Adoration" to show the character of prayer-life to which they aspire. The Order is supported by the labors of its members as far as possible, and by the alms of the faithful. St. Clare's Monstrance is published quarterly in the interests of the prayer life and as a means of communication between the Order and its friends and associates. Women living in the world may share in the life of the Order by becoming Tertiaries (see Tertiaries under Order of St. Francis). For information, address The Reverend Mother, House of Prayer, Mount Sinai, L. I., N. Y.

Sisterhood of the Holy Child Jesus

Under the direction of the Bishop of Albany. In charge of the Child's Hospital, Albany, and S. Christina Hospital, Saratoga Springs. Address, 41 Elks St., Albany, N. Y.

"Sisterhood of the Holy Nativity, The"

(Founded in 1882, by the Rev. C. C. Grafton, afterward Bishop of Fond du Lac.) This Sisterhood is engaged principally in Parochial Mission work. The Mother House and Novitiate are at 101 E. Division St., Fond du Lac, Wis. In Wisconsin, the Sisters are working at the Cathedrals of Fond du Lac and Milwaukee, and have a House on the Oneida Reservation, Oneida, Wis., where they established the lace industry among the Indian women. In California, 1748 Roosevelt Ave., they have a House in S. Matthias' parish, Los Angeles; in the east they have six Houses: 117 George St., Providence, R. I., where the Sisters work in S. Stephen's and other parishes; 133 W. 46th St., New York City, at the Church of S. Mary the Virgin; 55 Washington St., Newport, in S. John's parish; 820 N. Eutaw St., Baltimore, with work in Mt. Calvary parish, including S. Mary's colored mission; 110 N. Woodstock St., Philadelphia, at S. Clement's. The Sisters have a House at Bay Shore, Long Island, intended especially for women who wish to make retreats or who desire a rest for a few days or longer. They also visit parishes at the rector's request, remaining for some time, and giving temporary aid in parish work, viz.: the formation of guilds, gathering the unbaptized, preparing persons for Confirmation, etc. Where Missions are being held, they often go to aid the missionary. At the Convent, Fond du Lac, there are the ecclesiastical embroidery rooms, the Altar Bread department, and a picture department through which the Sisters try to do a missionary work and convey Church teaching by furnishing devotional cards for the Holy Eucharist, for Christmas, Easter, and other occasions. They have a free Lending Library from which the Church books are sent out by mail with no expense to the borrower, except for return postage.

Chaplain-General, the Rev. Granville Mercer Williams, S.S.J.E., S.T.D., 144 W. 47th St., New York City. For information, address the Rev. Mother Superior, Convent of the Holy Nativity, 101 E. Division St., Fond du Lac, Wis.

The Mother House of the Community is at 17 Louisburg Square, Boston, Mass. The Sisters have in connection with the Mother House, Altar Bread rooms. Sisters of the Resurrection

Visitor, The Rt. Rev. Frank A. Juhan, D.D., Bishop, of Florida. Founded 1890. Work in Saint Augustine, Fla., begun in 1896. At the Mother House in Saint Augustine, the Sisters conduct the House of The Nazarene, a House of Prayer, Rest, and Spiritual Healing, into which guests are received for definite periods. It is not an institution nor a permanent home and strangers making application to visit will please give references. The Sisters also organize, visit, and work with guilds for Intercessory Prayer, in parishes where such work has the approval of the rector. They will also conduct Missions in parishes upon request of the rector concerned. In the Chapel of the Mother House, daily morning and evening prayer services and noon Intercessions are open to any who wish to attend. Retreats are given there at regular intervals during the Church year, open to those who desire the spiritual help given through the instructions and prayers. Intercessory Prayer will be offered for all who ask it, at any time if those asking will also pray, wherever they may be. The work is an Adventure for Christ, and has no income other than answers to prayer for daily support and the thank offerings of those helped through the prayers. For information, address The Mother Superior, House of the Nazarene, Resthaven, 47 Water St., Saint Augustine, Fla.

FULFILMENT AND PROMISE

When the Sisters of St. Mary went out to the Philippine Islands almost 20 years ago to help in the work of Christian education and to minister in other ways to the ignorant and needy, they had no thought of such a consummation of their labors as that which took place early in October in the Church of St. Mary the Virgin in Sagada, when two native young women were given the habit in a religious order to be affiliated with the Community of St. Mary. It was, of course, natural that girls blessed by the life lived in the mission school under the care of the Sisters should "wish to follow in their holy footsteps," as one child long ago expressed it. Children in schools taught by nuns often feel this desire. But it is a fact that few of the children from such schools do enter the religious life. The great majority of them, after leaving school, live the ordinary life of the world, though deeply influenced and molded by what they have seen and learned at school. So it has been in the Sagada mission school. Girls frequently have admired and said that they wished to be like the Sisters; many have tried to live as close to God.

A vocation, however, is quite different from the following of an example. It is a call direct from God to the individual soul. And here, in the mission of the Sisters, two of the children they have helped have been thus called. After a long period of testing and training, these two have at last been permitted to "try their vocations" as novices. There is a further goal to reach, and it seems as certain as anything human can be that these novices will attain it.

Bishop Mosher has often spoken of the immense value to the mission work of the Church that monks and nuns are. Married men and women, he has said, are of great value, also, especially since they can set the example of a Christian family. But, as he has often declared, a married man or woman naturally has human claims which must be regarded. A monk or nun is free to give all, to have no claim except that of the mission field. It was in connection with the work of the Sisters of St. Mary that Bishop Mosher said all this. For this reason it is doubly pleasant to think of the promise for the future of the work in the Islands of this native order of the Sisterhood of St. Mary the Virgin. May God abundantly bless it!

CORRESPONDENTS OF THE LIVING CHURCH

THE LIVING CHURCH endeavors to maintain news correspondents in every diocese and missionary district of the American Church, as also in England, Canada, the West Indies, and other strategic points throughout the Anglican communion. It is the function of these correspondents to report promptly each week the Church events of their several jurisdictions which are of sufficient interest to merit chronicling in a general Church weekly. The clergy and Church people generally are asked to send items of general interest to these correspondents promptly, remembering that news is a perishable commodity and must be printed while it is fresh and before it passes into history.

The appended list is corrected to November 1, 1936, but is of course subject to change. Where no correspondent is designated, items should be sent directly to THE LIVING CHURCH, 1801 W. Fond du Lac Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

IN THE BIBLE

We can find in the Bible the old familiar things, sunrise, and sunset, calm and storm, love and laughter, broken hearts and open graves, lifted up against the skyline of eternity. We can find refreshment in its bracing air and upbubbling springs, its quiet valleys and snow-clad summits with their cloudless, boundless views. We can find pages like an open fire on a frosty night, pages like a horseback ride in the morning air, pages like a courtroom with judge and jury, pages like a vast cathedral with its fluted majesty and luring mystery. We can find companionship for the soul in all the moods and experiences of life. Its lovely cadences will sing in our memories and give wings to our prayers. Its plain teachings will provide us a blue print for right living and a guide book for eternal life.

FACTS ABOUT THE BIBLE

The Bible contains 3,566,480 letters, 810,697 words, 31,175 verses, 1,189 chapters and 66 books. The longest chapter is the 119th Psalm. The shortest is the 117th Psalm. The 37th chapter of Isaiah and the 19th chapter of the second book of Kings are alike. The longest verse is the 9th verse of the 8th chapter of the book of Esther; the shortest is the 35th verse of the 11th chapter of St. John's Gospel. The finest piece of writing in the Bible is considered to be the 26th chapter of the Acts.

FIRST EDITION OF OLDEST BIBLICAL PAPYRI ISSUED

The John Rylands Library, Manchester, England, has issued the first edition, by C. H. Roberts, of two Biblical papyri in the possession of the library.

The first papyrus consists of four fragments of a roll of the Book of Deuteronomy in the Greek version of the Septuagint. They were written in the second century B. C., and are thus some 300 years earlier than any other manuscript of the Bible in any language. They are the only pre-Christian evidence for the text of the Old Testament, and, although small and incomplete, enable definite conclusions to be formed as to the type of text prevalent at the time when they were written.

They formed, when found, part of a piece of cartonnage (papyrus torn up and stuck together with glue and then coated with plaster to form wrapping for a mummy); in the same piece of cartonnage were fragments of Greek and Demotic documents and rolled around the second fragment of the Deuteronomy was a strip of a roll of Homer's Iliad, Book I. The cartonnage may well have come from the Fayum Province of Egypt.

The second text is part of a Testimony Book i.e., a collection of passages from the Old Testament designed to prove the truth of Christian claims. This text was written in the fourth century A. D., and also comes from the Fayum.

ENGLISH CATHEDRALS

A cathedral is the mother church of a diocese. It derives its name from the bishop's throne (cathedra), which usually stands on the south side of the choir or presbytery. There are nine cathedrals of the Old Foundation—York, St. Paul's, Salisbury, Chichester, Wells, Exeter, Lincoln, Hereford and Lichfield. This means that their chapters or governing bodies were always secular, the control being vested in a dean and canons or prebendaries. A man was called a canon in reference to the rule to which he was bound to conform, and a prebendary because he was the owner of certain property—his prebend—from which his income was derived. At the Reformation little change was made in the constitution of these cathedrals.

Other cathedrals were governed by a chapter of monks, whose head was called the prior. Round each stood the monastic buildings, and everyone within the community was bound to obey the rule of the Religious Order to which the monks belonged. Such a church was not only the cathedral of the diocese but also the church of the community. This is an English arrangement and hardly ever seen abroad. At the Reformation all the monasteries were dissolved and cathedrals of this type were entirely reconstituted by Henry VIII; they are now known as cathedrals of the New Foundation. Their Chapters, as in the Old Foundation, consist of dean and canons, but the number of canons is smaller and all are equal in status.

There are, in addition, new cathedrals in the new dioceses. In some of these, e.g. at Ripon, Manchester, Southwell, St. Albans and Southwark, there were already fine collegiate or monastic churches that were suitable; but in others, e.g. Newcastle and Coventry, large parish churches had to be used and they remain parish churches as well as cathedrals and have parochial church councils.

The statutes of all cathedrals are likely to be changed to a greater or less degree by the operation of the Cathedrals Measure, 1931, which will have the effect of producing a greater uniformity of constitution without destroying valuable traditions.

Diocesan and Parochial

Diocesan officers of organizations, such as Girls' Friendly Society, Daughters of the King, Brotherhood of St. Andrew, etc., and information concerning Schools, Colleges, and other institutions will be found in the department of Institutions and Organizations, beginning on page 71.

The statistics of each Diocese and Missionary Jurisdiction have been compiled, in nearly every case, from the official statistics given in their respective journals, and the sheets have been revised by Bishops or Secretaries of the Diocese, to the latest moment possible. The numbers following the name of a Parish indicate the reported number of Communicants therein. The Clergy will confer a favor by forwarding corrections to be made in the next issue of THE LIVING CHURCH ANNUAL promptly to the office of the MOREHOUSE PUBLISHING Co., 1801 West Fond du Lac Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis.

Names of clergymen recorded are confined to those officially reported in diocesan journals or otherwise certified to the publishers as in good standing in some American diocese.

The information printed is taken from sources believed to be reliable, but the publishers are not responsible for errors or misstatements. In the rare instances in which the right of an individual to a particular designation is contested, the effort is made to follow the official ruling of the diocese, as shown in its diocesan journal or otherwise, and the publishers do not undertake thereby to express an opinion on any question at issue as to such right.

Quotation marks indicate legal titles of corporations.

ARRANGEMENT OF PAROCHIAL LISTS

In the tabular matter at the head of each diocese and missionary district, a brief historical resumé is given. Names of jurisdictions that have been discontinued, merged into other jurisdictions, or changed in name are given in the table at the end of the diocesan section, with indication as to the name under which current information regarding that jurisdiction can be found.

Explanation of "Previous Bishops" listed at the head of each diocese and district: First figures show years served as diocesan. When first figures are in parenthesis they denote years served as Coadjutor, Suffragan, or Provisional Bishop only. Figure in parenthesis following the name of the bishop shows order of consecration (see Succession of Bishops).

Each clergyman's name appears once under the head of either "Parishes, Missions, and Clergy," or "Non-Parochial Clergy," in the diocese with which he is canonically connected. Where one of his cures is also his P. O. address, his name will there be found. If he has no cure at his P. O. address, his name will appear at his cure, with his P. O. in parenthesis. Lesser points ministered to by the same clergyman will have references in italics to his main cure. Thus:

"Alpine, Trinity (24), r. Grace, Anniston."

This reference in italics indicates that the rector of Grace Church, Anniston, is in charge of Trinity Church, Alpine. His name will be found by looking at "Anniston, Grace." This obviates the delays, expense, and annoyance of sending mail matter for the rector of Grace Church, Anniston, to his lesser cure at Alpine.

Where the P. O. is not the same as the principal cure, it is designated thus:

"Carlowville, S. Paul's (78), J. S. Jones (P. O., Minter)."

This shows that the clergyman at Carlowville resides at Minter, but has no charge in the latter city.

This method has the advantage of showing at a glance the correct P. O. address of each of the clergy in any given Diocese, and also shows which is the principal, and which the lesser, charge of any one clergyman.

Lay readers in charge of any congregation are indicated in italics, when they hold a settled and permanent charge. It is not possible to give a full list of lay readers, as these change from year to year as episcopal licenses expire.

Among the abbreviations used, the following are the more common:

archd.=archdeacon

chap.=chaplain

cur.=curate

loc. ten.=locum tenens

m.=minister, missionary

off.=officiating

r.=rector

rec. emer.=rector emeritus

rec. hon.=rector honorarius

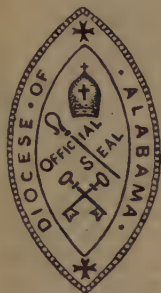

ret'd=retired

v.=vicar

A MOUNTAIN OF SALT

At the southern end of the Dead Sea, there is a mountain six miles long, three miles wide, and one thousand feet high. It is the Mount of Sodom—a solid mountain of salt. There is sufficient salt in the Mount of Sodom to supply the world for centuries to come.

BELIEF IN IDEALS

We have all seen sluggish streams meandering through the countryside and also swift-moving streams cutting a deep channel through earth and rock. The forces of a man's personality may well be compared to the stream.
 If a man has no ideal, his life becomes more and more preoccupied with petty concerns, and he mentally and spiritually meanders. On the other hand, the moment he gives his allegiance to an ideal, the forces of his personality are pulled together and he moves forward vigorously, like a channeled stream, toward his goal.

 In a word, belief in an ideal is that which alone makes a man a whole or united personality, what the psychologists call an integrated personality. The difference between a stream and an individual is that a stream can't choose whether or not it will meander, but a person can!

IT IS CHRIST OR NOBODY

By Charles E. Jefferson

I have looked the whole planet over, and I see no man but Jesus who is able to take away the sin of the world. I have sat at the feet of the world's crowned religious leaders, and I have seen all the great religions in their homes, and I now know that it is Christ or nobody. No one else has the slightest chance of winning the homage of the entire human race. More and more he is to me what he was to Saul of Tarsus—"the image of the invisible God." More and more he is to me what he was to John the Beloved—"God made manifest in the flesh." More and more he is to me what he himself claimed to be, the eternal Son of the loving God. To know him in establishing on this earth the kingdom of righteousness and peace and joy, this is what makes my life more and more worth living.

BAPTIZED OR NO?

Upon the answer which is given to this question depends the citizenship of the person involved. No alien who comes to the shores of the United States is granted the privilege of coming upon his own terms. His course, if he would stay here, is prescribed for him and he must meet the requirements laid down by the government of this land.

Some people would seem to feel that with respect to the Kingdom of God, individuals may select their own route and method of entrance. It is in a false security that these individuals dwell. We can no more expect to enter God's Kingdom upon our own terms, than we can expect to enter a foreign country upon the basis of our own whims and fancies.

—(St. Paul, Minn.) St. John's Evangelist.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

Some day the world will come back to the Ten Commandments. Our modern world defined God as a "Religious Complex," and laughed at the Ten Commandments as old fashioned. Then, through the laughter, came the shattering thunder of the World War, and now a blood-drenched bitter world—full of moral and political chaos—is no longer laughing and cries for a way out. There is but one way out. It existed before it is was engraven on tables of stone, it will exist when all stones have crumbled. The Ten Commandments are not rules to obey as a personal favor to God, they are the fundamental principles without which mankind can not live together. They are not laws—they are the LAW.

WRITTEN IN BLOOD

In an old Buddhist monastery at Kushan, near Shanghai, are some sacred books. They are called "the blood books," and why? Outside they resemble all the other of the large collections, but when one notices the case in which they are kept and the care with which they are handled, he realizes they must be of more importance than all the rest. It is because they are written in blood—the blood not of animals, but of men—men who were given to the task of writing the life of Buddha with their own blood. Ordinary blood, it is said, turns black after a time, due to the salt contained in it. So the monk who would make this sacrifice must get all the salt out of his system, and for five years before beginning to write he must exclude salt from his diet, eating vegetables and rice without a particle of flavor. Then, day after day, with prayer and meditation, he cuts little gashes on the end of his tongue or a finger and the blood oozes out into a tiny dish. For a year or more he lasts, but sooner or later, maybe before his book is written, he dies on account of the loss of so much blood. With Christians it is not thus; our Lord and Saviour furnished the blood and we write His life in our own.

SYMBOLS

The whole world is a symbol—the outward expression of God's creative power. Therefore it is not at all strange that Our Lord should have used symbols and that the Church should have incorporated them into her system of teaching. The Gospel parables are symbolic stories, just as the Sacraments are special symbols which Our Lord designated for specific use—"an outward and visible sign of an inward and spiritual grace."—An Outline of Christian Symbolism, by Bishop Wilson.

THE JEWISH CALENDAR

While the entire civilized world follows the Solar Calendar in religious as well as temporal affairs, the Lunar Calendar, determined by the earth's position with respect to the moon, is the basis for the fixation of all occasions pertaining to the religious life of the Jews.

The Jewish year consists of twelve months, each one of which has twenty-nine or thirty days, making a total of 354 days, or eleven days less than the regular solar year. To make up the difference between the two calendars, seven years in every cycle of nineteen years are designated as Leap Years in the Lunar Calendar, and have inserted in them an additional month known as Second Adar.

THREE TRUTHS

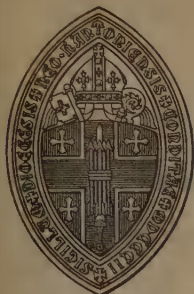

Over the triple doorways of the Cathedral of Milan, there are three inscriptions spanning the splendid arches. Over one is carved a beautiful wreath of roses, and underneath is the legend, "All that which pleases is but for a moment." Over the other is sculptured a cross, but there are the words, "All that which troubles us is but for a moment." But underneath the great central entrance to the main aisle is the inscription, "That only is important which is eternal." If we realize always these three truths, we will not let trifles trouble us, nor be interested so much in the passing pageants of the hour.

SPIRITUAL BANKRUPTCY

Oliver Wendell Holmes once said, "Just so sure as you keep drawing out your soul's currency without making new deposits, the next thing will be 'No Funds'. Soul deposits and checks must more than just balance if we are to be spiritually dynamic."

The worst bankrupt in the world is the man who has lost his enthusiasm, one who keeps drawing from his spiritual resources without subjecting himself to the sources of reinforcement and upbuilding. There are brakemen enough in the church to last for a few years. What the church needs is more firemen.

VITAL RELIGION IN THE FAMILY

The early Romans called the family hearth the "Focus." This has now become a word of science. There is little in science or the arts or any human achievement which was not first worked out before the fireplace, the focus of home. King Alfred planned the deliverance of his people while he turned pancakes before a home fire. No matter if he turned some too late and was scolded for it. Palissy burned all his home furniture to give pottery glaze to a world of homes. Little Jamie Watts played with the kettle in his mother's kitchen and invented the steam engine.

It is from home that men and women go out to conquer the world. It is of home they dream.
 For home they will toil and often nobly die.

Heaven's blessing resides within the family.
 We have this from Our Lord Himself, from His own lips when as man He was born at Bethlehem, lived at Nazareth, went about likening the Kingdom to come to the family already here, gathering His own within the new creation of His Church, the redeemed family, "Love one another, for all ye are brethren."

OLD SEDILIA DISCOVERED

An ornamental fifteenth century portable sedilia has been discovered in Sheffield Cathedral after lying about unused and unknown for years. In the fifteenth century alterations were made to the Cathedral, then the Sheffield parish church, and part of the chancel wall was demolished.

This portable sedilia, seven feet high, made of oak richly carved, was then apparently made to take the place of the previous one. It has now been renovated and placed in St. Katherine's Chapel, which has been provided in Sheffield Cathedral.

JERUSALEM UNIVERSITY

The Hebrew University on Mount Scopus, Jerusalem, has celebrated its tenth anniversary. Erected on a commanding site overlooking the wilderness of Judah, the Jordan Valley, the land of Gilead, the University is already exercising a potent influence in shaping the future of the Jewish people in the homeland. Through its efforts Palestine has been practically rid of malaria; a medical center has been established which will devote its efforts to the conquest of tropical diseases; the Institute of Chemistry has opened up the mineral resources of the Dead Sea; the Department of Geology, through its surveys, is enlarging the area of settlement for pioneers; and through its Department of Agriculture, it is seeking by afforestation and irrigation projects, as well as extensive botanical work, to bring back to Palestine its fame as a "land flowing with milk and honey."

CENTRAL THEOLOGICAL COLLEGE

In July, 1936, the Central Theological College of the Nippon Sei Ko Kwai celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of its founding.

Prior to 1911, the three missions coöperating in the work of the Japanese Church, the American Church Mission, the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, and the Church Missionary Society, each had separate theological schools, the two former being in Tokyo, and the latter in Osaka. In 1911 these three schools were united into the Central Theological College as a national seminary of the Nippon Sei Ko Kwai. A large grant from the Pan-Anglican Congress of 1908 made possible the purchase of the present site in Ikebukuro opposite the campus of St. Paul's University, and the erection of the necessary buildings.

During the quarter century of its life the Central Theological College has graduated 176 men, of whom 139 are now actively engaged in Church work, either in Japan, or in Manchuria, Brazil, British Columbia, or in Japanese missions in the United States. The present student body numbers forty-three. —The Spirit of Missions.

GIFTS OF GREAT SIGNIFICANCE

Two gifts which Archbishop Athenagoras conveyed to America are of extraordinary significance, not only in their international aspect but also by reason of their relation to the reunion of Christendom. One of these is a magnificent icon, from the Ecumenical Patriarch, His Holiness Benjamin I, made especially for the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. The other is a painting of St. Paul Preaching in Athens which Archbishop Chrysostom of Athens and All Greece sent as a personal gift to Bishop Manning. Bishop Manning and the high dignitaries of the Greek Church have long labored for the drawing near together of the Churches of the East and the Churches of the Anglican communion in the movement toward world-wide Christian reunion. These two gifts symbolize this fellowship and its meaning. Nor are they the first outward sign of this kind that Bishop Manning has received. In 1933 the Archbishop of Athens sent to the Cathedral of St. John the Divine a piece of rock from Mars Hill, which is one of the most treasured possessions of the cathedral today.

Bishop Manning is known and loved not alone by the great Greek Church but also by the whole Eastern Orthodox Church, for his understanding, sympathy, and kindness, manifested in countless ways to Eastern Orthodox Christians of many lands and many tongues. His own personal relationship with the clergy and people of the Greek and other Eastern Orthodox Churches has led them to feel that the Cathedral of St. John the Divine is in a peculiar sense a house of prayer to them. There, they have held the services of their own Church, in their own language; and there they have taken part in other special services on memorable occasions. Their appreciation of this fellowship has found frequent expression. But these beautiful and unusual gifts from the Ecumenical Patriarch and the Athenian Archbishops are striking as tokens of common faith and mutual endeavor. Impressive at any time, they are particularly so at the present time of world confusion and strife.

THE CHURCH AND PEACE

The Kingdom of Righteousness in which Christ rules is the only realm which promises the reign of peace on earth. The hope for it in any other quarter has been and will be sought in vain. The kingdoms of the world engaged in strife for mastery may desist from the struggle for a space, but such a truce cannot again masquerade as peace. All this was proved eighteen years ago . . . Now from other sources, through countless channels, currents are converging to a point of common interest and of strong resolve. They derive their strength no longer from the policy of governments, nor political expediency, but from that which lies still deeper in the faith and conscience of mankind.

—Bishop Perry.

SPIRITUAL BIRTHDAYS

Most people (except in those truly self-conscious years when one knows he is no longer young and cannot decently command respect for his revered age) keep the anniversaries of their physical birth into this world. They have a birthday cake and light candles. They call in their friends and rejoice together.

Few people, at any age, observe their spiritual birthdays—that is, the anniversaries of their baptism into the family of Christ, the Church.

 People who can recall readily their physical birthdays have no remembrance of the date of their spiritual birthdays. Why not celebrate your entrance into the Church (in contrast to the world) by being present at the daily service on your baptismal anniversary?—Parish Bulletin of

CHRISTIAN WITNESS IN INDIA

The Indian Churchmen take their Christianity seriously. Called upon by their Bishop to bear personal witness to their faith, about half of the communicants of the diocese of Dornakal responded by going about from village to village in bands to carry the message of Christ to nearly a quarter of a million men and women.

The results were as follows:

2,457 villages were visited by bands of people telling of Christ.

259,000 (approximately) heard about Christ.

304 new villages are asking for instruction as to how to become Christians.

4,051 have handed in their names as being desirous of becoming Christians in the Kistna Area (about half the diocese).

50,000 pamphlets, etc., were distributed. Of these 18,415 were Gospel portions.

20,000 Gospels were either sold or given away. Truly the lay people of the diocese of Dornakal know what Christianity really is. They do not wonder why their Confirmation classes are so small. They go out and recruit men, women, and children to be trained for Baptism and Confirmation. Their methods may seem to us rather crude and naïve. But which comes closer to apostolic Christianity, the American Churchman who dreads the Every Member Canvass because he hates to part with a few dollars for the spread of Christ's Kingdom, or the Indian Christian who gladly goes into the highways and the byways to bear personal witness to his faith and to share his joy in the knowledge of Christ with his fellow men?—The Living Church.

THE GIRLS' FRIENDLY SOCIETY—FROM 1877 TO 1936

It is interesting to look back from the G.F.S. to its beginning in this country in 1877. At that time there was little organized work for girls and young women in America; but the need for it, arising from the changed social and industrial conditions following the Civil War, was being increasingly felt by thoughtful men and women everywhere. In November, 1877, the first branch of The Girls' Friendly Society was organized in St. Anne's Parish, Lowell, Mass. From this small group the society has extended to nearly every diocese in the United States, to Japan, China, the Philippine Islands, Puerto Rico, and Panama. There are now 806 branches with a membership of 27,112. This is but a small fraction of the great number of girls and women who have been enrolled in The Girls' Friendly Society in the past fifty-nine years.

Recent years have seen increasing emphasis on the work with younger girls—children from six to twelve years old called "candidates." There are now 6,546 candidates enrolled in the society and special activities are developed for them.

SHARING NOT GIVING

Some people do not seem to like the thought of money as connected with the Church's life, yet, have you ever studied the Bible to see what a large place is given to sharing of money with God? It is just full of it from beginning to end. It is just as much a part of the Christian religion as praying, or worshipping, or anything else.

Our Lord understood the necessity of money in His plan for world redemption, and at the very beginning, made ample provision for securing it. He simply made the work of His Kingdom a partnership affair between Himself and His human children. When Christ commanded His disciples to go into all the world with the Gospel message, He began an enterprise that involved vast sums of money. The spread of the Gospel is the greatest enterprise on earth, and requires financial investments in keeping with its magnitude.

The New Testament says practically nothing about giving to the Church. Our Lord enunciates a principle of the Christian life, not as giving but as sharing. Giving means offering our surplus—something over and above the necessities of life. On the other hand, sharing means offering a proportion of life itself to be used by God. God does not want our gifts; He wants our sharing—our partnership. No matter how small or limited our income may be, we cannot afford not to share, for that is a very definite part of the Christian life. We will put our sharing with God at least on the same level of importance as our food, clothing and rent, otherwise it is not true sharing. The Church always has had to beg for money because so few Christians have recognized this clear principle of Gospel teaching.

—St. Paul's Messenger, (St. Paul, Minn.)

The figure given for the population in each instance is from the official U. S. census for the year indicated. The figure for communicants is taken in most instances from the Church's year book dated two years later. The reason for this is that the statistics in the 1932 Living Church Annual, for example, are compiled in 1931 from diocesan journals containing information for the year 1930. Thus the figures in the 1932 Annual are the ones comparable with those of the 1930 census.

For the years 1830 and 1840 no reliable annual statistics are available, and the figures are therefore taken from the average for three years reported in the Journals of General Convention.

All figures are for continental United States, excluding Alaska and the Panama Canal Zone. They are therefore somewhat smaller than those given in other tables under "Communicants—Domestic"—a classification that includes all dioceses and missionary districts under the American flag.

These statistics have been completely refigured this year on the new basis, and are believed to be more accurate than those given in previous editions of The Living Church Annual.

EARLY CHRISTIAN SYMBOLS

"The earliest Christian symbols come to us from the catacombs—those underground passages which were used as cemeteries in several of the ancient cities and which wind about for more than six hundred miles. Here the Christians met secretly for worship and here they buried their dead beside those of their pagan neighbors, inscribing Christian symbols on their tombs for purposes of identification."—An Outline of Christian Symbolism, by Bishop Wilson.

I HATE WAR

By Dan Poling

I hate war because I know its folly—I have watched it waste the substance of the world.

I hate it with terror—the terror of one who has known the sting of its torture and the frenzy of its fear.

I hate it with disillusionment—the disillusionment of one who has gathered up its bloody fragments and remembered its broken promises.

I hate it with agony—the agony of one who has sons to be numbered and daughters to be offered should its guns grow hungry again.

I hate it for the crimson bubbles on all the seas, for the poisoned breath it gives to the wings of the wind and for its fences of skulls that girdle the globe.

I hate it for the men it maims—bodies mutilated, eyes blinded, limbs severed, faces shut up forever behind masks.

I hate it because of the child it orphans and the wife it widows.

I hate it because of the evil passions it unleashes to feed upon the innocent.

I hate war—but I believe; believe that the song of the angels above Bethlehem is a prophecy; believe that right is ultimate might; believe in the fatherhood of God, in the brotherhood of man, and have cast the anchor of my faith behind the Prince of Peace.

I hate war and I believe. And because I both hate and believe, I hear the trumpet of the dawn when nations shall beat their swords into ploughshares, their spears into pruning hooks, and when men shall learn war—no more forever.

—Christian Herald.

ON ENJOYING WORSHIP

"It is interesting to witness a fine service, but not so interesting as to take part in it. When I see people in church who are giving a fine representation of bumps on a log, I have two emotions. The first is of sorrow, for they are missing so much. The second is of indignation, for they are not playing quite fair. They came to give God something, and they are not giving it."—After Confirmation, What? by Bishop Davies.

BARD COLLEGE COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY ANNANDALE-ON-HUDSON NEW YORK

A College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, associated with the Episcopal Church, and incorporated within the educational system of Columbia University as one of its undergraduate colleges. It is a residential college for men conferring the Columbia degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Bard College as an integral part of Columbia University combines the advantages of college and university education. Its location at Annandale-on-Hudson, New York, ninety-five miles from New York City, gives it also the advantages of both city and country life.

The College, founded in 1860 as St. Stephen's College, inaugurated in 1934-35 a new educational program of a distinctive character, and by vote of its Board of Trustees changed its name to Bard College, in honor of its founder, John Bard. Young men of marked ability in the field of arts and sciences, standing in the first quarter of their graduating class in secondary schools, are eligible for admission without examination. The entering class is limited to seventy-five students.

The regular fees amount to twelve hundred dollars for the year, including seven hundred dollars a year for tuition, two hundred dollars a year for furnished room, and three hundred dollars a year for board. These are inclusive fees, no charges being made, as is usual in other colleges, for laboratory work in sciences, for athletic activities, for health and medical services, or for laboratory work in music, art, or dramatics. Scholarships and part-time employment are available for qualified students. A catalog will be sent upon request.

YOU CAN REPEAT
EXPERIENCE IN LIFE

life - itself

TODAY is life. Tomorrow is a hope. Yesterday is a dream. Nothing is so dead as a day that has passed. Only the trailing clouds of memory remain.

One today upon another today — how quickly a decade is built! Youth approaches manhood in high heart, embraces maturity as the period of his conquest, then "remembers with a sigh the days that are no more."

So life goes—like that. NOW is the only opportunity. NOW is the moment of success. NOW men decide—NOW men win or fail.

Are you one of the men wondering today what will happen to you tomorrow? Then remember this: If you take care of today, tomorrow will take care of itself. And one of the most important safeguards you can take is to be certain your training is modern . . . Today in almost every line of human endeavor, ambitious men are modernizing their training by spare-time study of International Correspondence Schools Courses. Their action is a guide to you—and NOW is the time to act! Complete information on any subject in which you are interested will be sent without cost or obligation.
